300 Masters Compete in Palm Beach Meet

from FRANK VALDES

Blue skies, warm temperatures, and the promise of good competition attracted over 300 athletes from 25 States, Canada, Puerto Rico, and England to the Palm Beach T&F Championships in Florida on April

Two American age-group records were set in the field events. Jeremiah Gaines, M75, of Chesapeake, Va., broke the old record of 12-101/2 for the long jump with a 12-111/2 leap. Stan Laski, of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., extended the M70 hammer record from 119-10 to 128-1.

Former world-record holders Brian Oldfield, 42, and John Powell, 39, each won their specialties. Oldfield put the shot 64-9 and had the crowd buzzing in anticipation with a 68-0 practice toss. Powell, a six-time national champion and four-time Olympian, spun the Continued on page 8

Welch Sets World Veterans Marathon Record

Priscilla Welch, the amazing 42-year-old Britisher living in Boulder, Colorado, broke the world marathon record for women-over-40 with a sensational time of 2:26:51 in the London Marathon on May 10.

The old mark, which was thought by many to be untouchable, was 2:29:43, set by fellow Briton Joyce Smith in the same race in 1982.

By contrast, the American women's masters record is 2:38:19, set by Miki Gorman in 1976.

Welch ran comfortably through a 33+ 10K, and reached the half-Continued on page 20

Loudat Wins Bud-Light Legends Mile as Ryun and Lindgren Make Masters Debuts

It was billed as the annual Oregon Twilight track and field meet, but, from the standing ovation at Hayward Field in Eugene, Oregon on May 16, the race the crowd had come to see was the Bud Light Legends Mile.

And why not? Jim Ryun, who turned 40 on April 29, was about to compete in his first race as a masters runner. Gerry Lindgren, 41, was making his first competitive appearance under his real name in at least seven years. Bill Stewart, 44, the U.S. masters indoor-mile record-holder, was there. So was Tracy Smith, 42, the reigning U.S. masters 10K and mile champion.

Meet promoter Jim Healey had also lured former Olympians and masters luminaries Mike Manley, Ray Hatton, Bob Schul, Kenny Moore, Al Swenson, Web Loudat, Sam Bair, Tom Heinonen, Damien Koch, Jim Hampton and Vic Wolfe to the starting line. And to top it off, the starter was Peter Snell.

It was arguably the finest field of masters milers ever assembled, and the shouting crowd of 6,932 made it one of the most dramatic and exciting events in the 20-year history of masters runn-

The favorite, off current form, was Tracy Smith, who had won the Millrose Masters Mile and recently set a U.S. masters 10K record of 29:50.

WOMEN HAVE IT TOO EASY

I read with some concern Mike Tymn's attack on the amount of prize money awarded to female runners, (April NMN). He omitted to inform his readers that the first official marathon was run in March 1896 - for men, only, of course - and that women had to wait nearly a century, until October 1973, before we were allowed to prove that we are capable of running and finishing an international marathon. Nor did we have the advantage either of gaining experience by competing in 5-, 10- or 20-mile road races.

I cannot help wondering how many male masters would be recording sub-2:15 marathons now if their bodies had been used to nurture and carry a growing baby for 9 months; suffered the trauma of bringing a new life into the world, stayed at home to feed and nurse a demanding child 24 hours a day, then toe the starting line on equal terms!

If Mike had checked records of exinternational male athletes who had retired and later returned to masters competition, he would discover that very few of them are able to beat mediocre club athletes who competed uninterrupted.

He makes no allowance for nature's biological unfairness to 45/50-year-old women. He even suggests that we age faster than men. Many 60-plus women must have chuckled as they read that whilst they were cooking their "younger" husband's meals or washing his socks.

I am not aware of women masters on this side of the Atlantic receiving subventions yet, but I am very much aware of the pressure put upon women to give up athletics when they leave school in many underdeveloped countries of the world.

No, let us have more encouragement and, yes, equality for all.

Bridget Cushen, Women's Delegate World Association of Veteran Athletes London, England

Mike Tymn is, indeed, a brave soul to take on the women as he did in his April Gun Lap column. I suspect that even if right, Mike will hear from a bevy of women. After all, look at how ruffl-Continued on page 11

Loudat Wins Legends Mile

65-second first lap as the field of 15 bunched together. The field split on the second lap with Smith, Loudat, Koch, Swenson and Stewart forming the leading group.

On the third lap, with 660 to go, Swenson and Loudat broke from the top five and turned it into a two-man race. They ran together for 600 meters until Loudat out-sprinted Swenson to the tape to set a new American masters outdoor-mile record of 4:20.89. The time broke Hatton's 12-year old mark of 4:24.0. (Stewart's indoor world veterans mark is 4:11.0, while New Zealand's Jim McDonald holds the world 40+ outdoor mile standard of 4:18.5. A 4:13.8 by Britain's Derek Vaughn is pending.)

Swenson, who was runner-up to Smith at the Indoor Nationals in Madison, March 28, again took a silver medal, in 4:21.75 Koch was third (4:26.35), followed by Smith (4:27.15), Stewart (4:28.26), Bair (4:29.25) and Ryun (4:30.98). Lindgren finished 11th in 4:39.6.

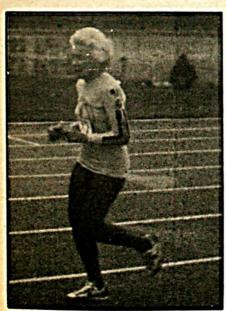

Hatton, 55, finished 13th in 4:45.1, a new U.S. M55 record, which broke Don Gammie's mark of 4:46.5.

Times would have been faster, but for a strong wind blowing across the track.

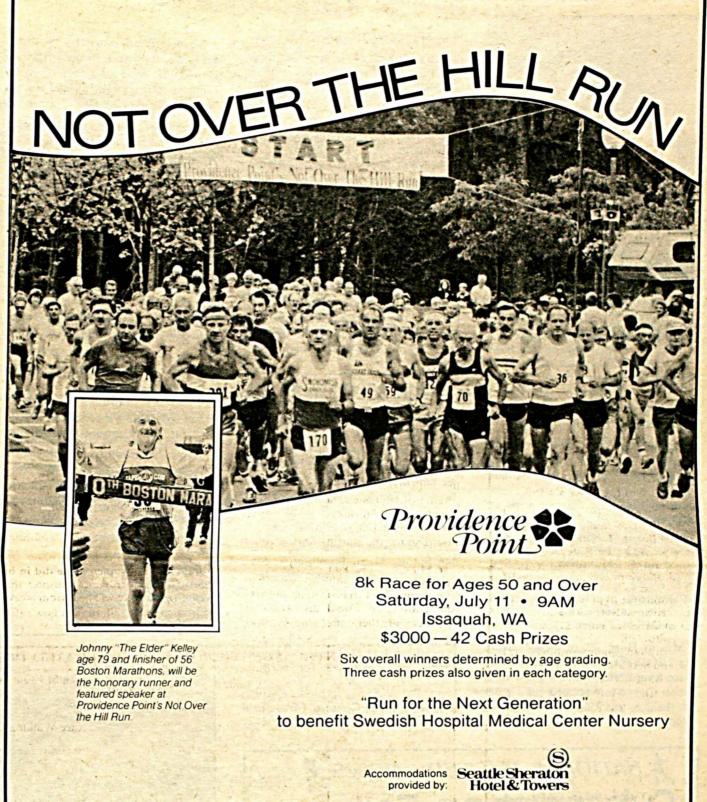

After the race, Ryun said: "I hoped I'd do better, but I'm glad to be back...I hope to go to Melbourne this autumn to compete in the World Veterans Games."

Smith said he just didn't feel right. "I had good workouts all week, so I have no excuses," he said. But a four-hour drive from his home in Bishop, Calif. to the nearest airport (Reno) might have taken a toll on his legs.

Lindgren, the subject of an lengthy article by Olympian-turned-author Moore in Sports Illustrated (May 18), said: "I had a problem with a groin pull, but when I heard the crowd yelling, I decided to go for it. I'll run the Continued on page 9

Barry Brown of Gainesville, Fla., and Priscilla Welch, a British citizen who is living in Boulder, Colo., until her husband finishes his studies there, were masters winners in the 15th Annual Nike Cherry Blossom 10-Mile, Washington, D.C., on April 5.

Washington, D.C., on April 5.

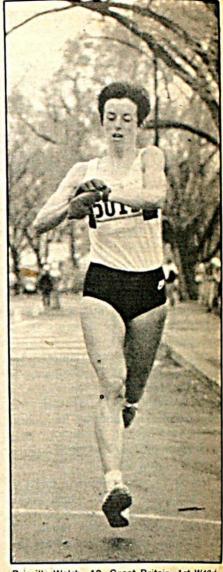

Brown's 50:55 left the second masters place for Lucious Anderson of Silver Spring, Md., 1½-minute behind. Welch's 53:51, her best 10-mile time ever, pushed her into the fourth women's spot and a $1100 prize.

The masters divisions were filled with big name winners: Richard Stotlar, M45 (55:18); Norm Green, Jr., M50 (54:18); Hal Higdon, M55 (60:28); Orlo Keniston, M60 + (60:41); and Vince Carnevale, M70 + (80:48), but none produced a tight race.

Besides Welch, masters women's division winners were Sharon Hamilton, W45 (69:56); Gudrun Phillips, W50+ (1:10:12); and Harriet Wever, M60+ (1:20:22).

As the threat of bad weather disappeared and snow stayed west of Washington, D.C., Australian Lisa Martin went on to a world women's best of 52:23, smashing Rosa Mota's 53:09 set on the same course last year. Colorado's Jon Sinclair (46:48) was the first of twelve runners to cross the finish under 48 minutes.

The race, coordinated by Jeff Darman, drew, among other notables, triathlete Scott Molina; the NYRRC's Fred Lebow; and Senators Max Baucus and Albert Gore, honorary directors.

Clark, Palm Each Win $5000 in 91st Boston Marathon

by JERRY WOJCIK

Britain's David Clark, 43, and Sweden's Evy Palm, 40, won the masters races in the 91st Annual Boston Marathon on Patriot's Day April 20, and first masters prizes of $5000 each.

Clark, with a 2:21:37, left second place to Eddy Lee, 40, a Welshman from Cardiff, who finished in 2:24:39, worth $1500.

Palm's time of 2:36:24 left Canada's Rejane Plante, 44, far back at 2:54:15, but nonetheless worth $1500.

Murray Hunt, 40, of New Zealand, ran 2:25:19 for the masters $500 third-place award. Jane Hutchinson, 41, of Webb City, Mo., rescued third place for the U.S. and $500 for herself in the W40-and-over competition with a

2:55:04 from the 123 W40-49 finishers. Jack Bickley, 41, Washington, D.C.,

the first U.S. masters finisher, took eighth place with a 2:34:02, just seven seconds in front of ninth-place Sumner Brown, 43, of Belmont, Mass., of 1317 M40-49 finishers, the last of whom finished in 3:45:15.

The M50-59 race was won by Brendan Spratt, 53, of Boca Raton, Fla., who took it in 2:47:25 from Sam Light, Jr., of Kingsport, Tenn., by 40 seconds in a field of 468 finishers.

Jack Start, 66, of Trenton, N.J., beat 58 runners in the M60+ division with a 3:13:24. Canada's Michael Peytour, 72, ran 3:19:26 for fourth.

In the W50-59 division, Carolyn Cappetta, 51, of Concord, Mass., held off Erika Krueger, 52, of West Germany by half-a-minute to win in 3:17:24. Thirty entrants finished that race.

Agnes Reinhard, 61, of W. Allis, Wisc., ran 3:53:19 for the W60+ victory, with California's Mary Storey second at 4:18:30.

Ruth Rothfarb, 85, of Cambridge, Mass., finished in 8:11:24, a U.S. agegroup record.

Ortega, Kiddy First Masters in Long Beach Marathon

by JERRY WOJCIK

Warm temperatures (80°) slowed the pace but not the determination of the 2925 finishers in the 6th Annual Long Beach Marathon in Long Beach, Calif., on May 3. The 92% finish rate (3167 started) was a testimony to the crowd support along the race route.

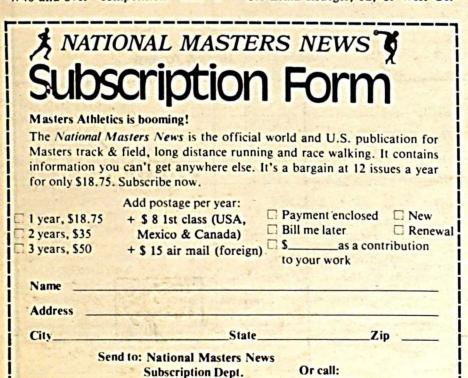

The masters contests went to Fred Ortega, 40, of Burbank, Calif., who finished in 2:44:05, and ultramarathoner Sandra Kiddy, 50, of Palm Springs, Calif., who ran 3:31:06.

James Edmonson, 44, of Los Angeles was second master, and Joyce Momita, 50, of North Hollywood, Calif., was W40-and-over runner-up in 3:36:52.

Kiddy's husband, Fred, 53, waited for her at the finish for 23 minutes after winning the M50-54 division in 2:50:14.

Overall winners were John Mc-Cracken, 30, of Nebraska, with a personal best of 2:19:15, and Beth Milewski, 29, of Canoga Park, Calif.

Next year's event is scheduled for May 1. □

Distance Runners: Athletes or Wimps?

ou mean to tell me they call those little wimps athletes," my Uncle George from Detroit reacted while viewing the New York City Marathon last year. The remark was prompted by the color commentator's reference to the lead runners as "athletes."

Uncle George belongs to the Merlin Olsen school of sports. To Olsen, a former all-pro turned football commentator, an athlete is someone who can run 40 yards in 4.4 seconds, cut on a dime, and leap high over defenders. By those standards there isn't an elite distance runner in the world who can be called an athlete.

Football coaches and scouts have been known to classify players as either athletes or animals. The athlete is one whose excellence is attributed to speed and guile; the animal to sheer size.

Uncle George's comment reminded me of a remark made by a high school football coach back in 1962 when I was coaching a high school cross-country team in Alameda, Calif. The football coach, a former Little All-America quarterback, remarked that cross-country is a good sport for non-athletes.

As a contributor to Sports Encyclopedia North America, being published by Academic International Press, I was recently asked to research the word "athlete" and do 1,000 or so words on it.

My first source was the dictionary, which defines an athlete as, "one who takes part in competitive sports; a person possessing the natural prerequisites for sports competition, as strength, ability, and endurance." The word has its roots in the latin athleta and the Greek athletes, meaning contestant, from athlein, to contend for an award, from athlon, award or prize.

The dictionary definition creates many more questions than the one it is intended to answer. To begin with, what exactly is a sport? The dictionary defines that word in various ways, to include an active pastime, a diversion, recreation, play, light mockery, raillery, and jest. The most acceptable definition by today's usage would seem to be, "a specific diversion, usually involving physical exercise and having a set form and body of rules."

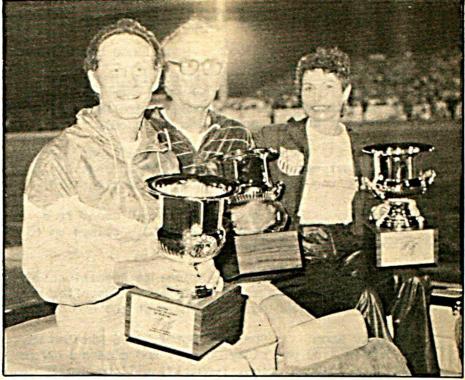

With the term "physical exercise" being subject to further interpretation and not mandatory, games such as billiards, croquet, and horseshoes might qualify as sports and concomitantly their practitioners as athletes. Yet, a Minnesota Fats, the celebrated champion of pool and billiards, would seem to be the antithesis of the modern athlete, at least in terms of the muscular or streamlined build commonly associated with athletes.

If, however, an athlete is one who is sculptured like Adonis, Mercury, or Hercules or like the decathlete of modern times — a build which manifests those qualities of strength, agility, and endurance mentioned in the dictionary — what then of the rotund sumo wrestler, the tiny jockey, the beanpole basketball center, . . . or the wiry distance runner?

If physical activity is required, how vigorous must it be? If billiards, croquet, and horseshoe pitching do not qualify as sports or athletics, what about other relatively sedentary games, such as golf, bowling, stock car racing, sailing?

Is the expenditure of physical energy in billiards or horseshoe pitching significantly less than that in archery or marksmanship, two Olympic activities? Do all Olympic Games activities qualify as sports? Or are some simply games? Does a major league knuckleball pitcher expend much more energy than a horseshoe pitcher?

Must there be competition? What then of the mountain climber? Does the Olympic gymnast stop being an athlete when he or she becomes a circus acrobat? What about the Olympic figure skater who goes on to the ice follies?

If the competition aspect is used in its most generic sense, to include competition with the elements, with animal life, or against oneself — thereby bringing mountain climbing, hunting, fishing and circus acrobats within the realm of athletics — what of the crosscountry balloon flyer or the deep sea diver? Was Sir Edmund Hillary any more of an athlete in conquering Mt. Everest than Charles Lindberg was in flying the Atlantic?

There is very little in the way of reference material to answer the myriad of questions created by the dictionary definition of athlete.

References on early Greek athletics only serve to create additional confusion. The classical Greeks had competition in fields of endeavor which we do not classify as sports, such as trumpeting, shouting for heralds, dancing, and the playing of music. Those we accept as sports included track and field, pugilistics, and events for horses.

The classical Greek athlete is today sometimes depicted as the long distance runner. Yet, there are indications that the Greeks did not consider the long distance messenger an athlete.

"The runner who brought the message from Marathon in 490 B.C. was a great patriot and a splendid distance runner but he was not an athlete," writes Professor Richard D. Mandell in Sport, A Cultural History. "Significantly, the outstanding distance runners we know, so spare in the upper arms and haggard in the face, do not appear in classical art. As spectators, the ancients preferred the proportions, mass, and the high spirits of the young mesomorphs who were sprinters."

Probably the most thorough examination of the meaning of the word "athlete" has been conducted by sports philosopher George Leonard, author of The Ultimate Athlete.

After confronting many of the questions and contradictions mentioned above, Leonard concludes: "For me, then - and this is purely arbitrary an athlete in the Game of Games is one who plays life intensely, with heightened awareness of this endeavor. An athlete is one who can perceive discord and harmony. An athlete in this Game plays voluntarily and wholeheartedly, even while realizing that this Game is not all that is; knows the rules and limitations of play and sees beauty in the order thus imposed; seeks to expand any frontier available and yet is not unmindful of ethical imperatives and the needs of others. The athlete contends in a game for a prize, and the prize is play itself, a life fully experienced and examined."

As Leonard sees it, an athlete may be a musician, a carpenter, a householder, a yogi, an Olympic runner, or a farmer. "No one can be excluded merely because of occupational specialty, and differences between the purely physical and nonphysical begin to fade," he writes.

If we accept Leonard's definition, distance runners can qualify as athletes. Heck, even Wendy Miller, my fellow columnist, qualifies.

Amid showgirls, elite runners, Moosehead beer, and loads of awards, Paul Bruvik, 44, (1:24:21), and Judy Kewley, 42, (1:36:00), accepted $100 checks for first masters in the halfmarathon portion of the Tropicana/KLAS-TV Las Vegas Easter Run, April 18.

Harold Hubbard, 60, of New Hope, Minn., won the M60+ contest in 1:34:48

In the 10K race, David Schaffner, 47, (36:11), and Harolene Walters, 44, (39:09), collected like amounts for their masters victories. Walters finished third woman.

Utah's amazing 57-year-old Gaylon Jorgensen devoured the competition in the M50-59 race with a 13th-place 36:28.

The fields in both races included runners from 33 states, England, Colombia, Kenya, Mexico, and Canada. Thomas Sports Enterprises orchestrated the whole affair.

Harolene Walters, W40, seen here warming-up for the San Gabriel River Run, March 7, won $100 as first woman master in the Tropicana Easter 10K, April 18, in 39:09.

Gabriele Andersen, 42, the Idahobased Swiss Olympic marathoner, cruised to an easy 7-minute overall women's win with a 2:40:20 in the Emerald City Marathon in Seattle, April 12, to take the women's $5000 first prize.

Dev Canmer, 40, of Monroe, Wash., maintained a 5:55 pace for a 2:34:59 time to win the masters race from 234 M40 finishers.

Larry Webster, 53, of Seattle led 72 finishers in the M50-54 division with a 2:44:08.

Second W40-and-over was Gunhild Swanson, 42, of Spokane, Wash., in 3:07:37.

The overall winner was Doug Kurtis, 35, of the Detroit area, who ran 2:17:26 for his 66th career marathon and his 32nd under 2:20. Masters runner Kjell-Eric Stahl of Sweden leads the list with 55 sub-2:20s.

The marathon had 1424 finishers, and over 1600 runners finished the adjunct 8K race.

On Approaching Every Problem With an PEN MOUTH by W. MacDONALD MILLER

Leakgate

et's face it, any return from vacation is going to be a bit of a bummer. After all, there are other things I'd rather be doing than earning a living. On the other hand, I was one of those lucky people who developed a profession that has allowed me a great deal of freedom.

Working with numbers, with money, understanding how they relate, how you leverage them, compound them, finance them, and invest them, and, all the while, prudently positioning yourself as a fiduciary who shares a disproportionate amount of the profits-versus-risk, has supported me in a style and manner that my family has never become totally accustomed to - hand to mouth.

Just the same, returning home from a vacation is always tough. You've got your mail to go through, for instance. One day at a time isn't so bad; you don't notice the complete anonymity you live in. Pick up three weeks of mail and it hits you right in the old head band: 107 pieces addressed to Resident or The Folks, 31 letters with requests for money having to do with services rendered, 27 requests for money of the Eleemosynary type and, finally, something worth looking at - a letter from daughter with a request from college; she and her new boyfriend, "Stud Peterson," need a small advance to make it to Mazatlan for Spring Break.

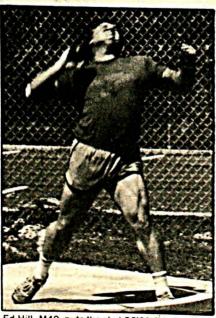

Anyway, I digress . . . one of the things I do upon my return home surprises even me - I read the National Masters News. I first read the letters to the editor, and before I'm finished I've pretty well looked over the entire affair. I don't know whether to laugh or cry. While cheating, trophy-grabbing, chest-pounding, wind-bagging and lying is admittedly the glue that keeps Masters competition together, what in the world is going on here? I leave you alone for a couple of months and you've all turned on one another with new found vigor and hate.

As best I can figure it, the problem has divided our club-house against itself and, unless I'm missing something, the issue all started over someone taking a leak. Or maybe he didn't take a leak; I'm not exactly clear on this point but I don't think it really matters. What really matters is we're getting too serious again. Look at our letters to the editor section; we're right back to letters from guys claiming they were "497th at Huntsville and not 498th as your newsletter so maliciously and erronerously reported. I should sue you for defamation of character.' We're right back to devoting pages and pages to microscopic results of events that should have been enjoyed, not drooled on.

I must raise my voice again in defense of what's good and what's important about Masters activity. People must be reminded and brought back to the thrust of what old-age competition is all about. It is a stage upon which people can perform and, heaven knows, there is room for all levels of competition. This stage, however, is at its best when it presents and fosters strange goings on. Masters activity makes its greatest contribution when it provides a showcase for whackos, those glorious goofballs, those wonderful weirdos who can live so unappreciated in our midst.

What can you say about a 50-yearold man who would don sweat bands, knee socks, multi-colored spikes and devote his entire weekend to pole vaulting seven feet, except - wonderful. Wouldn't you like to spend an evening with a couple from Indiana who, locked in the grip of a Midwestern snowstorm, did 10 miles each day around the dining room

It's an old saw and I suppose I am starting to repeat myself, but somehow, some way, we've got to lighten up. Tell me, did you ever hear a winner really complain? Next time you u-haul that brokendown mess you call a body over the finish line in 5,000th place, congratulate yourself and keep your mouth shut - you'll be a winner. Life goes on after Yale, you know, even if an army of sixty-year-old men in white bucks would have you think otherwise!

As for me, I've got more important things to do with my time, like trying to patch up a number of relationships that went sour while I was gone. Let's see, Fine is mad at Pain, what's-his-name is still very unhappy with Ken Young, Sturak is pretty upset with Mundle and now that I think about it, I'm plenty browned-off at Higdon, myself. Somewhere in this mess I've forgotten what the hell Jack Foster is mad at me about. It doesn't make sense; some of my best friends are Australians. It's all part of my role as a responsible, ethical journalist. I. for instance, have known for years that Ernie Billups can't swim a lick.

Spectators and meet officials were hoping for a showdown from Powell, Oldfield, former high school recordholder Dock Luckie (who threw 202-7 at this same site in 1976), and four-time Olympic champion Al Oerter. Unfortunately, Luckie opted for the Orlando Track Classic, Oerter withdrew with a back injury, and Oldfield finished with a 171-3.

The national atmosphere of the meet was reflected in the 100m, with almost every age-group winner coming from a different part of the country. Thaddeus Bell, M40, of Charleston, S.C., topped all masters times with an 11.39. Winners included Gordon Albury, M55 (12.68), of Santa Fe, N.M.; Bill Weinacht, M70 (13.78), of Boca Raton, Fla.; and Kathy Pierce, W35 (13.88), last year's W35 national outdoor shot put champion, from Cortland, N.Y.

In the 200, Alfonso Walton, M35, of Washington, D.C., who clocked the meet's best 100m (11.16) did it again with a 22:36. Bell won again with 22.77 and fought off Gordon Reiter of Baldwin, Mo., to win the M40 400, 53.28 to 53.79.

Jay Sponseller, M65, of Naples, Fla., won the 400 (67.09) and the 800 (2:36.7).

Peter Hallop, M40, of Ann Arbor, Mich., who recorded a 4:25.34 mile also, led all 5000 finishers with a 15:39:79. Bobbie Rothman, W40, of Coconut Creek, Fla., who has qualified for the 1988 Olympic Marathon Trials, paced the women with an 18:07.61 5000.

The 110mH started off the running events in fine style as Nate Robinson, M35, of Deerfield Beach, Fla., blazed to a 14.7, followed by Robert Zahn, M30, of Waukesha, Wisc., in 15.1, and Dale Smith, M30, of Houston, Texas, in 15.7.

First finisher in the 5000 racewalk was Bob Fine M55, of Delray Beach, Fla., with a 28:06.35, just in front of R. Lee Duffner, M50, of Golden Beach, Fla., who walked 28:10.73.

Triple-jumper Wayne Reese, M30, of Moore Haven, Fla., had the best mark of the day (46-91/4). Vernon Mattson of Weston, Mass, won the M65 division with a 28-111/2.

In the women's field events, Harriet Boyd, W60, of Lake Mary, Fla., set a U.S. age-63 record in the high jump with a 3-1, and had a fine shot put effort of 26-10.

Ed Hill, M40, of Birmingham, Ala., lost no luster to the big-name stars with a 52-93/4 shot put, a 144-9 discus throw, a 156-2 hammer toss, and a 56-8 mark with the 35# weight.

The 1988 meet is set for April 23-24.

event again, if they'll have me after the way I ran tonight."

Lindgren won six NCAA distance titles for Washington State in the mid-60s.

Lindgren said he decided to enter the race "to set the record straight" about his disappearance seven years ago, when he left his wife, three children and a bankrupt athletic footwear business in Tacoma, Wash. He was the subject of an 11-year-old paternity lawsuit at the time. He was discovered by NMN columnist Mike Tymn, who recognized Lindgren running under the name of Gale Young in a road race in Honolulu last year.

Lindgren briefly remained in Eugene to attend the wedding of Moore, who finished 14th in 4:48.3.

Lindgren was greeted warmly by former competitors at a Friday night banquet and exchanged hugs with his high school coach, Tracy Walters of Spokane.

"I can't comment on family things," Lindgren said. "It's sad I broke up with my wife and sad how it all happened, but I don't want to air dirty laundry in public. There is a lot more to it than people need to know. I don't really think I was in hiding as much as avoiding that paternity situation.

"I hid things, I suppose, because I was in an adverse situation and I was a little afraid of it. I shouldn't have been, because the legal difficulties I had have long since been cleared up."

Healey, an assistant coach at the U. of Oregon in Eugene, spent four months putting the race together.

"When I saw the tremendous crowd reaction to the Millrose Mile (in New York City on Jan. 30), I had to try to do something," he said. "I contacted Kodak, IBM and others before Bud Light came through with travel expenses for the athletes."

Healey said the budget didn't permit prize-money, but added: "I'd like to get this going on a national basis, and offer big money to any 40-or-over runner who can break 4-minutes for a mile."

The Eugene Register-Guard ran a photo of the event, while the Portland Oregonian (the largest newspaper in the state) devoted half of its meet story to the Legends Mile. The Los Angeles Times did a two-column story - mainly on Lindgren - and the event was mentioned in USA Today.

Healey said he picked the name "Legends" out of the air. "The sponsor felt the name 'Masters' didn't fit the event," he said.

The final meet on the existing Hayward Field track will be the Pre Classic on June 6. A new $225,000, Pro-turf track will then be laid in time for the 1987 U.S. National Masters Championships, August 14-16.

Spotting New Trends

d Burke is one of the prime thinkers in the world of both cycling and sports medicine. A former competitive cyclist and exercise physiologist, he recently moved from a job with the U.S. Cycling Federation in Colorado Springs to Spenco Medical Corporation in Waco, Texas. "Working with the athletes was fun," Ed told me recently, "but I got tired of the politics."

One of Ed's jobs now is spotting trends, so Spenco can have products ready in the market place. "Instead of reacting to trends, such as the current boom in walking, we want to be out front," he explains.

I'm not sure what the next trend is. Maybe luge. That's sledding, like they do in the Winter Olympics. I have inside information that our women's team, currently ranked second in the world, is going to kick the skids out from under the East Germans at Calgary next February. If so, that will create a luge boom that manufacturers can profit from. After all, everybody had sleds when they were kids.

Unfortunately, the luge boom is

Where Are They Now?

RAY GORDON: In the late 1960's when sports page mention of runners was scarce, an article appeared in the Washington Post captioned: "Grandpa Gordon Defends His Mile Title." It was necessary for masters to journey to San Diego for national competition, and each year Ray went West to capture the mile race for men over 50. He was the one who first got the idea for a masters running club in the Washington area, and the Potomac Valley Seniors were organized in November 1972 in Ray Gordon's basement rec. room.

Ray has since moved to Front Royal, VA, where he writes that "I thought I would be able to run and remain competitive as long as I lived, but arthritis (knees and hips) has hit me real hard the past four months or so. I continue to run but it is painful, and if I run hard it is excruciating. But I'll hang in there as long as I can."

scheduled to last only 17 minutes, so merchants need to be ready early with products to take advantage. Can Spenco devise a plasticized pad to make sledding down an icy chute at 80 mph comfortable, if not less frightening? I'm not sure, but my friend Ed is working on it.

Meanwhile, everybody has been suggesting that the running boom is over, an old trend gone awry. Shoe sales have sagged: the Nike swoosh pointing downward instead of upward lately. To maintain respectable numbers and keep sponsors happy, a number of running races (including the one I direct in Michigan City) are adding walking events in response to increased demand from people doing health-walking, or power-walking, or mall-walking, or striding, or whatever it's now called. If Ed Burke spots the next trend before I do, maybe he'll call, so I know what it is two weeks before Time puts it on the Except I'm not sure I care. I suspect that when Ed heads home from his new corporate digs, he jumps on his bike for a ride around the neighborhood because that's what he likes doing whether it's trendy or not.

I feel the same about running, even though I've branched away from it in recent years to participate in other sports, bicycling one of them. Last summer, my wife and I rode RAGBRAI, the seven-day bicycle tour across Iowa that attracts 8,000 participants. Cross-country and downhill skiing are among my recent new hobbies. I've participated several times in the 55K American Birkebeiner. One of these years I plan to do the Ironman. Luge? Uhh, I'm out of town that weekend.

But all those other sports are like background noise, the music you hear riding up the elevators of life. Recently I've blocked out such athletic Muzak and renewed my acquaintance with my original favorite sport. Other activities are fun, but running is what I do best, and what I like best.

There's a simplicity about our sport that is very satisfying. You don't need to wax skis or tinker with gears. You don't need $2,000 worth of equipment or membership in some club to use facilities. You just do it. You run.

For several years I've whimped along on minimum training, happy with 20-30 miles a week, pushing occasionally further in an end-of-season binge to run a bit faster. I've rationalized a loss of several minutes from my 10K times to the fact that I'm getting older, and to a certain extent that's true. But not entirely.

There's a simplicity about our sport that is very satisfying. You don't need $2,000 worth of equipment or membership in some club to use facilities. You just do it. You run.

Maybe it's the maturity of age, but I've resisted excuses and opportunities lately to remotivate myself. I moved into another five-year age bracket last year and failed to use that as a lure to upgrade my training. I've run a couple of marathons recreationally recently (including New York last year in over four hours), but it's been a half-dozen years since I last sat down with past training logs for guidance and designed a schedule that was going to get me to the finish line of a marathon at near maximum speed.

I miss those 20-milers on weekends. I miss the feeling of wind in my hair on days when I choose to run fast. I miss the painful, yet satisfying, feeling near the climax of a long interval workout on the track. I miss the sip of a cold beer after a hard 10K on a day that was too hot for fast times, but I pushed it anyway. I miss the general camaraderie of the runner's workplace: the roads, the trails, the track. Beckoning are faroff places and races still unrun, t-shirts still unwon. One of these days I want to do Bix and maybe return to the Honolulu Marathon again. The World Veteran Games are in Australia this year offering a peak to climb. But the biggest lure is all those miles in preparation.

Maybe the next trend is returning to the sport we love, which in my case is unashamedly running. I think I'll call Ed Burke and tell him that — if he isn't away from his desk on his bicycle.

Hatton Breaks 20K Record in Pear Blossom

Ray Hatton, M55, of Bend, Oregon added another national age-group record to his name when he won the masters race with an 11th-place 1:09:22 in the Pear Blossom 20K in Medford, Oregon on April 22. His time smashed Ross Smith's M55 record of 1:13:23 and is also well below Alex Ratelle's pending 1:09:59.

Clarke McCance, M40 winner from Klamath Falls, Oregon was second masters in 1:10:20, while Elaine Delsman of Ashland, Oregon took the W40-and-over title with a 1:20:04, good enough for tenth woman.

Over 1500 runners finished the race, which was won by defending champion, Ken Hunter, 34, (1:02:12). First woman finisher was Mary Alico, 23, (1:13:21) of Virginia.

ed Jack Foster was when Mike raised a legitimate question about the length of a marathon course. One point Mike did not raise (and this the ladies will not like) is: what is fair in handicaps for men and women? I know that in some handicap races, the handicaps call for men age 65 to start with women age 35. Fair? This year the historic DIPSEA race adjusted handicaps to reduce some handicaps for women, but still this is what a 60-year-old man is up against. He gets a 14-min handicap, whereas women 45-46 get 17 mins; women 44, 16 mins; women 43, 15 mins; women 41-42, 14 mins. Or, again, a 50-year-old man gets 7 mins, whereas women 16 to 37 get 11 mins; women 38-39, 12 mins; and a 40 year old woman gets 13 mins. Again, is this fair?

> Paul Reese Sacramento, California

Setting aside any respect for Mike Tymn as both a writer and a runner, I find his "The Ladies Have it Too Easy" (NMN, April) so riddled by faulty reasoning and ill-disguised bias as to be unworthy of elaborate, reasoned response. But a few questions and comments are in order:

Would Mr. Tymn write, "The gentlemen have it too hard"? Did he glean his statistical evidence from raceresult listings for "Men" and "Ladies"? (Where has Mr. Tymn been!)

Tymn's major premise that prizes should be awarded "in relationship to the ratio of men to women" confuses cause and effect. It certainly may be no coincidence that women's roadrace fields have grown — proportionately, I might add, at a greater rate than the men's — in conjunction with the increase of events offering equal prize monies.

Tymn's tedious and invidious comparisons of the relative "quality of performance" between men and women is specious: even in mixed roadraces, women race separately from the men. The sexes are not competing against each other.

Similarly, Tymn's attack on Jack Moran's Twin Cities Marathon handicap system is flawed by selective apples-versus-chairs reasoning: he compares world records; Moran bases handicaps on age-group PRs. Also, I find it rather tacky and self-serving to criticize — more so, while denying that he is being critical — a system that attempts to reward outstanding Masters performers regardless of age or sex. Tymn obviously favors the former criterion — but for men only?

Some women's records are relatively soft — for all the obvious reasons. Women haven't been participating in these events that long — at the outside, about 20 years, while men have been competing in organized athletics for a century. Since Tymm so enjoys crunching numbers, he might compare the percentage improvement since 1967 of the women's marathon record with that of the men's during the same period or (more to the point) during the first 200 years of men's marathoning (i.e., 1896-1916).

The wisdom inherent in Moran's handicap system or the All-American Certificate Program (which Tymn also castigates) is that a primary motivation for most competitive athletes is the pursuit of personal goals or self-fulfillment rather than of statistics. Statistics, as we all know, can be a devious game.

Carried to a logically absurd conclusion, Tymn's reactionary reasoning and rigged statistics would throw women distance runners (at the least) right back out of the Olympic Games. Exactly these kinds of arguments and sentiments have denied, to this day, women distance runners full equality on the Olympic program. (As an enlightening exercise, Tymn might put up the toilet seat, so to speak, and scrutinize the ratio of men marathoners to men runners entered in most any track event — and compare the relative "quality of performances" - at any Olympics through 1960. Should we begrudge those relatively few, relatively slow men marathoners their Olympian status, their "easy" medals?)

Maybe it was another April Fool's article. Or a vain attempt to solicit more Letters to the Editor than Wendell Miller? Sour grapes, I say.

Jacqueline Hansen was the first woman to run a sub-2:40 marathon (1975) and has held other world records on the track and roads at distances from 6-miles to 50-kilometers. As a political activist in women's athletics, she spearheaded the movement that resulted in the addition of the 10,000m and Marathon to the Olympic Games schedule.

ALL-AMERICAN STANDARDS

The 800-meter standard-of-excellence for the 75-79 age group — 3:30 — seems to be out of reach for this (my) age group. Paul Zachman of New Jersey ran a 3:30.7, which is a pending M75 record for the 800.

Also, the standard-of-excellence for the M75 400 seems to be out of line, since Byron Fike was the only man in the world to qualify for this award in 1986 with a time of 76.0, and Fike, in my opinion, is the most outstanding athlete in the world in the 75-79 age group.

INDOOR NATIONALS

On paper, I guess TAC looks like a rather efficient organization, but, I feel they still have some things to learn about running a track meet and helping the TAC athletes.

I traveled from Pinellas Park, Florida to Madison, Wisconsin to participate in the 1987 TAC National Indoor Masters T&F Championships only to be denied the opportunity because someone made a mistake.

I followed the instructions for entry as required. I mailed my entry on March 2, 1987, eight days prior to the deadline. Upon arrival at the meet for my one event, the M65-69 2-mile RW, I learned that my entry was apparently lost in the mail, and I could not participate. I could not even participate as a guest, not in competition with the accepted entries, just for a PR. In discussing my situation with the meet director, he informed me there were late entries that were refused participation. One late entry in particular threatened legal action if anyone participated other than those on the prepared entry list. This also added to the refusal of allowing me to participate.

TAC continues to confuse the participants by changing requirements from year-to-year. In 1986, late entries were accepted. In two years I saw no requirements for confirmation of entries, which could have eliminated these problems. To regularly allow late entries is the better solution.

Racewalking needs all the support it can get. I'm trying to do my part, but I was not given the opportunity this year.

TAC should be consistent in its entry requirements. Masters meets were developed to allow the individual to pursue his athletic skills in his senior years. TAC should develop guidelines that make it easy for the master to participate. These games are for fun. Let's keep this in mind.

UNIFORMS FOR WORLD GAMES

In response to a letter in the May issue of NMN, the suggestion of a World uniform, although an ideal concept, would probably be impossible to achieve. It is my feeling that uniforms are not worn to foster an "us against them" attitude, but in the case of the Masters, for whom the World Games are our "Olympics," to identify the American team and allow us to recognize athletes from our own country as well as those from all over the world. #### Stress Fractures Stress fractures of the lower extremity occur in approximately seven percent of all distance runners complaining of pain. It is generally agreed that stress fractures are caused by two sources: external and internal.

External sources include hard running surfaces, poor training shoes and overuse (running too fast, too far, too soon).

Internal or intrinsic factors include muscle fatigue, kinetic instability, biomechanical imbalance of the foot, and improper stretching.

These two sources lead to compressive overloading, and this leads to direct stress fracture.

For example, during running the body undergoes a stress overload which is usually aggravated by overpronation of the foot. This leads to muscle fatigue and associated loss of shock absorption. The result is a structural stress to the bone.

The athlete first notices pain and perhaps some swelling in the fracture area. This limits running activity and there is muscle atrophy.

Stress fractures usually occur in those running more than 50 kilometers a week, and those undergoing sprinting and jumping activities.

The major areas sustaining stress fracture are the metatarsal bone of the foot, the tibia (shin splint syndrome), and the fibula. There are even cases of fracture in the knee, femur and pelvis as well.

There appears to be an equal coefficient for fracture among those with high-arch feet and those with low-arch feet. However, the overpronator seems to be more susceptible than the general population.

Most fractures are diagnosed first by a complete history and physical examination. This is then confirmed by x-ray. However, in many cases, a stress fracture will not appear radiographically for 7-10 days. This is why a complete examination by a qualified sports physician or podiatrist is essential.

Treatment? Rest. Most stress fractures heal in 6 weeks. Usually, if the fracture is in the foot and is nondisplaced, a simple unna boot and cast shoe will suffice. The athlete is usually back to activity in three weeks.

On the more severe fractures, a below-the-knee cast is required and the healing sequence usually takes 6-8 weeks.

Being proud of your uniform or your colors does not make your competitor your enemy. Most large corporations in our free enterprise system spend millions of dollars developing a theme, company colors and logos, and the consumer recognizes that company's products and identifies its services by these symbols. Just imagine if all the NFL, NBA, NHL teams wore the same uniform. Attendance would suffer and the interest in that particular sport would vanish, and confusion would reign.

We know that the Aussies will make these World Games a most memorable one. The Opening Ceremonies with all the athletes marching into the stadium will be an exciting event - one in which we should be proud to be identified by our colors and uniform.

Julie Stiles

reservationist for King County Parks Dept.

Family: Married to Peter, three children.

Current Residence: Seattle, Washington

Best Performance: 1985 PNAC 5-mile championship, 29:23 (national age 43 record); 10-K PR 35:58, 1985 Summer Times Run; 1985 Diet-Pepsi 10-K, 36:27 (first master); 1986 PNAC Masters 15-K Championship, 57:51 (first overall); 1985 Sounds to Narrows 12-K, 44:41 (2nd overall).

Your best performances have all come during the past few years. Can we assume then that you didn't begin running until after age 40?

"No, I began running in 1968 when I was 26. I'd always been an ectomorph—weak, slow moving, careful, and cautious. I started running to lose weight and to be healthy. Then I got into the mental aspects and benefits—reducing stress, problem solving, and feeling good about myself—like I had really accomplished something by going out and running ten miles. I didn't get into competition until almost ten years later."

What prompted that?

"A friend invited me to accompany her family to a race. I told her I didn't compete, but she said she just wanted some company as she ran her 9-minute miles. When the gun went off, 2,000 people cheered and took off. It was exhilarating and I had a wonderful time. I ran a few more races with her. Then one day she persuaded me to race just once. After an argument, I agreed to do it, but just that one time. It was a 10-K and I placed second in the 30-39 women with a 41 something. I was shocked, and then I realized that it wasn't competition I didn't like; it was getting beaten."

How much were you running before you began competing?

"I had been running ten miles a day, 6-7 days week. I had read somewhere that ten miles at 6-minute pace would burn 1,000 calories. I was doing more like 8-9-minute pace, sometimes 7-minute pace, but I still figured that ten miles a day would be a significant number of calories."

How do you train now?

"I run 63 miles a week or so. I take one day a week off and race one day. I alternate the other days between seven and 14 miles. I do two miles or more of intervals, 200's, 400's, or 800's, twice a week."

Does training conflict at all with family obligations?

"I try to keep my priorities straight and not let running come first or interfere with family obligations. Having the kids run with me helps. Also, I can be flexible regarding place and time of my training."

Your best year was '85. Is there still room for improvement?

"I broke 40 minutes for the first time at age 40 after 15 years of running. At age 43, I broke 38 minutes for the first time. I had a slower year in '86 and my race performances this year are suffering due to a four month bout with the flu, during which I went without any aerobic exercise for six weeks. I'm now trying to get back in shape.

"I started training with weights three years ago, and so I'm much stronger in my upper body than I have ever been. The face is going, but the body is stronger than ever."

Which do you consider your most memorable running experience?

"The race I'm proudest of was that 35:58 10-K. The course was certified

Julie Stiles, 45, and her daughter Marianne and my first mile split was 5:15. It gives me a lot of pleasure to relive that race, but seeing my 11-year-old daughter beat me in a race while breaking 40 minutes for 10-K also stands out."

A New Direction For Masters Athletics?

Tracy Smith running an indoor 4:18 mile and receiving national acclaim. A Frank Shorter interview featured in the May National Masters News. Jim Ryun racing a Masters 800-meters. Pretty heady news. Pretty exciting stuff. All of which bodes well for the Masters program.

These individuals are not the first Masters to attract national-media attention, nor will they be the last. And, more than likely, other over-40 (and even over-30) athletes of like calibre will be entering Masters competition provided we are ready for them.

Are we ready? Probably not, but we are pretty close. Some difficult philosophical questions, however, may have to be addressed over the next several years as a result of this growing influx of high-profile and worldclass athletes.

Masters athletics, though providing strong competition in a number of events, is still relatively low-key. Generally speaking, our meets do not attract crowds of spectators. Friends and family might be shocked if they had to buy tickets for Masters events. Many might even refuse.

Masters competitors are still relatively "pure" amateurs. A few may have or still do enjoy minor sponsorship help (e.g., complimentary equipment, occasional travel expenses); but so far, no Masters athlete has been the subject of a major promotional campaign.

Most meet directors would probably chuckle or outright laugh (even hysterically) if any Masters were to ask for appearance fees. Perhaps a few athletes have been paid; but most meet budgets I've seen could not bear such expenditures.

Uncommon as these practices may be currently, they could signal a new direction in Masters athletics. The media tend to focus on personalities. Some are outstanding performers; but often, some sort of personal-interest slant has caught the media's attention. As a consequence, other excellent athletes, perhaps doing as well (if not better) than those publicized by the media, may be ignored. Perhaps major-meet promoters will schedule even more special events for elite Masters, as did the Millrose Games this past January.

But are we ready for them? (Are our egos ready?) Perhaps not all of us, not yet. I really do feel, however, that we will continue to follow the philosophy that has always inspired the Masters program: To provide competitive opportunities for any athlete over 30 in a competent, business-like (yet relaxed) manner, with emphasis on fellowship and open participation.

Thus, while the newly instituted All-American Certificate standards may not, for our purposes, signify an exalted status, they do demonstrate what the Masters program is all about: Giving recognition not only to the exceptional "elite" among us but also to those who, though they may never win a championship or break a world record, are nonetheless active competitors who reap the rewards of good physical conditioning and camaraderie. Only one person wins an event, but I have often heard athletes say it is not quite the same if only one person is competing for first place.

The All-American Certificates are one way of giving recognition to many and providing goals for all Masters participants. I congratulate those who helped put this program together. As a result, I expect many Masters "All-Americans" will become topnotch competitors - able to compete successfully with the likes of Tracy Smith, Frank Shorter, and Jim Ryun.

Morales Breaks Javelin Record at Mt. SAC

by JERRY WOJCIK

Bill Morales, 70, destroyed his twomonth-old, M70-74 world 600g javelin record of 141-10 with a convincing, to say the least, throw of 155-4 in the Mt. SAC Relays in Walnut, Calif., on May Morales still holds two other U.S. javelin records: the M55 (180-9 in 1973) and the M65, which, at 148-3 in 1984, is some seven feet below his most recent record.

In other events in the ten-year agegroup meet, which was the finale of a track and field festival that draws thousands of high school, junior college, university, and open athletes every year, Bob Watanabe was a triple winner in the M60-69 division with victories in the 100m (12.5), 200 (25.8), and 400 (1:03). Jerry Withers, 57, paced the M50-59 1500 runners with a 4:58, just 4/10s ahead of Robert Culling, 55. Reynaldo Brown high jumped 6-8 in the M30-39 division.

Del Pickarts, who just joined the M60-64 ranks, threw the discus 138-9 and the 800g javelin 161-7.

Exercise Slows Aging Process

our studies of older athletes have confirmed the belief that "if you don't use it, you'll lose it."

1) A 10-year study of 25 runners and competitive walkers, whose average age was 62, found those who continued to train regularly maintained their aerobic fitness — the body's ability to use oxygen.

Michael Pollock, director of the University of Exercise Science, said "They seemed less prone to heart disease than sedentary people. The effects of aging aren't as dramatic if you maintain your exercise level."

The aerobic capacity of the older athletes was higher than that of lean, unathletic 25-year-olds tested in previous studies.

2) Another study dispelled the myth that older people should not run because of damage they might cause to their knees or hips. Researchers said they found that older people who run for exercise have stronger bones than elderly non-runners and do not suffer more frequently from arthritis or other joint-related diseases as was once commonly believed.

"It's been said that if you use a joint — like football players' knees or tennis elbows — you'll eventually wear it out," said Dr. Nancy Lane, author of one of the studies published in the Journal of the American Medical Association. "But in our study of 41 long distance runners between age 50 and 72, we found it's not true. The runners, both male and female, had 40% more bone material than non-runners, but showed no significant differences in the onset of joint disease or osteorarthritis."

Lane said the finding is of particular interest to women, since they begin to lose bone density rapidly after the onset of menopause. Older women who run will lose less bone material and therefore be less susceptible to injuries caused by brittle bones, she said.

3) A third study, led by Dr. Richard Panush at the U. of Florida in Gainesville, evaluated 17 runners — including nine marathoners — and 18 nonrunners between 50 and 74 years of age. "Pain and swelling of hips, knees, ankles, and feet, and other musculoskeletal complaints among runners were comparable with those among non-runners," Panush said.

4) In a 16-year study of Harvard graduates, researchers found that men who used up at least 2,000 claories a week through exercise had a 28% lower death rate than did less active men during the 16-year follow up period. The research was conducted on 16,936 Harvard graduates between the ages of 35 and 74, and was directed by Dr. Ralph Paffenbarger of Stanford University School of Public Health.

World M65 Pole Vault Champion Jim Vernon has Bypass Surgery

Jim Vernon, the world M65 pole vault champion, underwent singlevessel, bypass surgery May 4 in Covina, Calif.

About a week earlier, Vernon was healthy, with no signs of trouble. As he began to warm-up at Covina High, where he trains the high-school vaulters, he blacked out. This had happened once before, some time ago.

"He went to his cardiologist who did an echocardiogram and stress test," said Jim's wife, Mary. "An angiogram found a minor artery was only 10% open, and an aortic valve had to be replaced." Doctors replaced the valve with the valve of a pig, which is less subject to failure than an artificial valve, but doesn't last as long. "Doctors said blackouts can be a symptom of heart disease, and said if Jim hadn't gotten treatment, the damaged artery could have closed in six months," Mary said.

The surgery was successful, and doctors say Jim should be back vaulting in about three months.

Vernon is the director of the annual Trojan Masters Meet. The meet was scheduled for June 27, but Vernon cancelled it last month, due to renovation of USC's Cromwell Field.

Greenwood Recovering From Heart Attack

Jack Greenwood, 61, who underwent double-bypass surgery on April 15 after suffering a heart attack, is recovering at his home in Aurora, Colorado.

The 1986 U.S. masters track & field athlete-of-the-year is walking two miles a day, and returned to work (Jack is a banker) on May 18 on a half-day basis. Doctors expect him to be ready for full-time work by June 1. Because of his top condition, he may be able to resume running in two months.

"I've received dozens of calls from friends all over the country," Greenwood said, "and I'm very grateful for the support, but I'm afraid I can't offer any clues as to why this happened."

Greenwood said there is no family history of heart disease, other than a brother who had a minor attack eight years ago. The brother recovered and is living in Arizona (contrary to last month's report that he had died).

"My father died in a car accident at 46, and all my relatives on his side are still living in their 80s, except one who died of cancer," Jack said.

Greenwood had a cholesterol check a week before the April 10 attack, which read 190, well below the 200 "caution" level.

"I was fortunate the attack occured at the bank," Jack said. "I had just hung up the phone, and all of a sudden felt pressure in the pit of my stomach, like someone pushing hard. I tried to walk it off, but it moved up my breastbone to my right shoulder. I sat down and broke out into a cold sweat. I knew something was wrong, so I had Nancy (his wife) drive me to the hospital, which was only five minutes away. If I had been running alone at the track or on the road, who knows what might have happened?"

Greenwood said his last treadmill was eight years ago (naturally, it was excellent), and said doctors think a regular treadmill test may be the only way to spot heart trouble.

Larry Lewis - King of Master Runners

by TOBY MEDINA

Present-day sports-medicine doctors would have had a field day with a hero of mine, Larry Lewis. He succumbed to liver cancer in San Francisco around 1974 after a short illness. Larry was 107 when he died.

Larry laid claim to the world record for centenarians in the 100-yard dash with a time of 17.3 seconds, a mark which he established in 1969 at Cox Stadium in San Francisco. He was 102 at the time. He took daily six-mile runs through Golden Gate Park, and then would walk five miles to the St. Francis Hotel in the downtown area where he worked as a banquet waiter since age 80.

I met Larry Lewis at the U.S. Masters Meet at Balboa Stadium in San Diego, July 5, 1969. His memory was fabulous: he gave dates of track and field events and names of athletes who set national and world records in the 1920s. He spoke distinctly and maintained an easy stream of conversation. His blue eyes sparkled with life and their corneas were a clean snowwhite. He was slender and of medium height and appeared no older than the average 60-year-old athlete competing that day.

Larry was well-known to San Francisco football crowds that watched him in yearly exhibitions in a 100-yard dash from goal post to goal post during half-time of '49ers games, celebrating his birthdays.

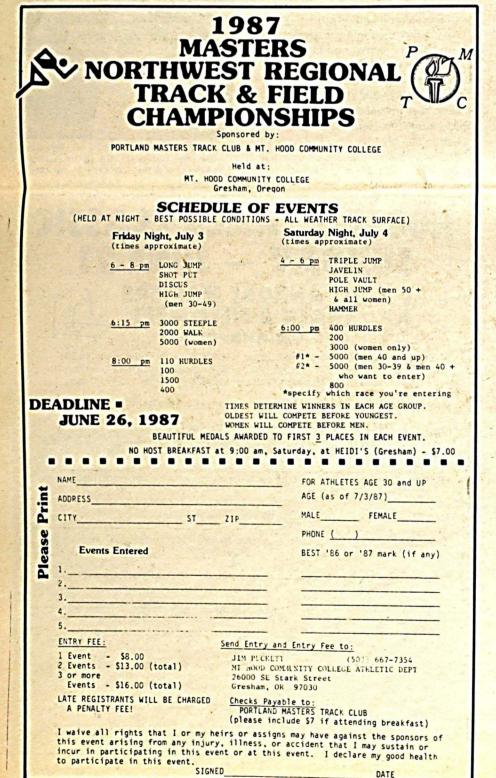

He was born June 25, 1867 in Phoenix, Arizona. His childhood playmates were mostly Navajo and Apache children. His age was attested to by records of the Masonic lodge of which he had been a member for 75 years. What made Larry tick? S. Barrey Paul, his doctor, wasn't too sure. Part of the answer was Larry didn't smoke or drink. He consumed two to three gallons of water each day and lived solely on meat, baked or broiled. Explain that to current-day nutritionists.

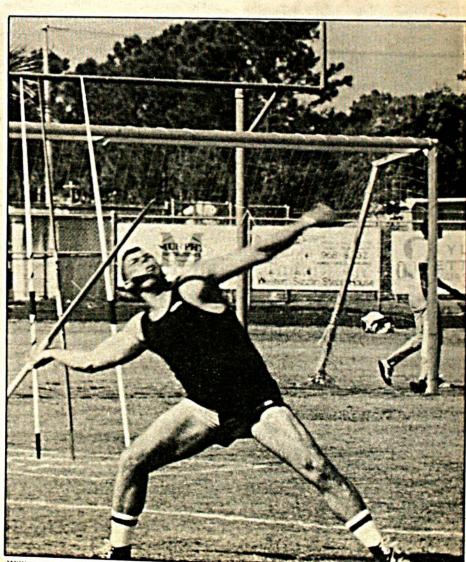

He joined P.T. Barnum's Circus in 1882, becoming a wire walker and strait-jacket escape artist. In 1923, was still a bachelor and finally got married at age 57. He outlived a sister and eleven brothers. His mother survived to the age of 97.

A car accident fractured his skull and seven ribs and severely injured his back in 1946. Twenty-three days later he was back on his feet. He worked as a waiter at the St. Francis Hotel, bounding up and down stairways, hustling food-filled trays, remaining employed until shortly before his death.

All runners embrace the fulfillment of an extended life span. Our true biological potential is believed to be about 110 years. As Hemingway said, "No man is ever really dead until the last man who knew him is dead."

Max Goldsmith

by TIM MURPHY

ow many athletes do you know who have had a track meet named after them? Meet Max Goldsmith, namesake of the annual Max Goldsmith Track Meet in Lewisville, Texas.

For the last 50 years, Goldsmith has either been running or coaching runners. When it comes to running, he has either done it, or plans to do it. Max is an athletic director, coach, the National Masters Site-Selection Coordinator, the President of the Dallas Masters Track and Field team, a top masters runner and jumper and, in his spare time, he clerks the Dallas Morning News Indoor Games. On top of that, he worked 18 days in April at high school meets.

Goldsmith, who was 64 in May, and his wife, Elaine, have two boys. The oldest is principal of an elementary school in Lewisville, Texas. The youngest son is a high school coach in the west Texas town of Wilson.

Goldsmith began his love affair with running back in high school in Lewisville, where he won his share of track events. After his school years, he went off to the Navy for 31/2 years. On returning from the South Pacific, he attended North Texas College in Denton, Texas, where he ran sprints, relays and 220 hurdles.

In September 1948, after college, he headed to the West Texas town of Andrews to coach the high school team, and there he stayed for some 20 years. He topped his coaching career with three National records in one day in 1960 (440 sprint relay, 41.5, mile relay, 3:15.2, and 440, 46.5). Max's team had a string of 52 straight victories in the mile, and 51 of 52 firsts in the sprint relay over five seasons. In 1967, Goldsmith went back to Lewisvile High School, this time as a coach for three years, then as Athletic Director for 15 years, before he retired. The Lewisville Track Meet is now called the Max Goldsmith Meet in his honor.

He still works out six days a week when he can, using the hard day/easy day system. Half his workouts are on grass, the other half at the track.

Texans are thankful for all the kids he's helped in his years of teaching and coaching.

28,000 + in Austin's Capitol 10K Run

by JERRY WOJCIK

A cold air mass from the central United States that brought record, near-freezing temperatures to Austin, Texas, did not deter a mass of over 28,000 runners from showing up for the 10th Annual Capitol 10K on March one second with a 42:13, with Hesse beating out Jack Caldwell of Austin for third by three seconds.

Mexico's Jose Neri was not slowed by the cold and won the M40-49 race easily with a 30:52 over Gregg Evans of Austin in 33:53. Dale Thompson of Amarillo, Texas, won the M50-59 division in 34:52.

Vicky Portch of McKinney, Texas, ran 40:35 to take the W40-49 race from Josie Bowman of Round Rock, Texas, who closed in 40:52. Joyce Gaskin of Beaumont, Texas, was the W50-59 winner (47:10), and Wanda Hall of Marble Falls, Texas, the W60-and-over leader (1:05:43).

Overall winners of the event, sponsored by the Austin American-Statesman and directed by that newspaper's Special Projects Coordinator, Donya M. Andrews, were Austin residents Patrick Sang (29:50) and Vicki Smith (34:58).

Jordan Sets World M70 Records in 100 and 200 at Ken Carnine Classic in Sacramento

from MICHAEL ACKLEY

Payton Jordan, who has rewritten the record book in every age division since he began running masters track, continued his record-breaking assault by setting two world 70-74 age-division marks at the Ken Carnine Classic in Sacramento on April 25.

First, he lowered his own pending M70 world 100-meter mark of 13.33, which he ran on April 4 at the Fresno Relays, with a brilliant clocking of 13.0.

Then, he blazed to a 27.4 in the 200, lowering the old M70 world standard of 27.5, set by South Africa's Fred Reid in 1980. (Both marks are subject to ratification by the World Association of Veteran Athletes.)

Ross Carter, the current world shot and American discus record holder in the M70 division, hurled the iron ball 43-51/2 and the discus 134-1, to highlight field-event performances.

In all, more than 40 meet records were broken as more than 160 competitors from age 30 through 80 - plus a few open-class athletes - ran, jumped and threw in 90-degree-plus temperatures.

Ken Carnine, the meet's 79-year-old namesake, was injured and unable to compete. He was pressed into service as a judge and meet official, however, probably expending more energy than he would have as a competitor. He's expected back on the track in 1988.

Countdown to Melbourne

New Secondary Track?

major change in the location of some running events is being considered by Ray Callaghan, meet director of the VII World Veterans Games to be held in Melbourne, Australia, from November 28 to December 6, 1987.

"We may use the new 373-meter track at Olympic Park for 5K walks and runs, 10K runs, and possibly for the 800 and 1500 heats," Callaghan said. "This would relegate the University track to our third track."

Originally, the University's rubberized, black asphalt track was scheduled for most distance events. But Callaghan said: "After seeing the new track in its finished state, I'm inclined to use it. Given a choice, the great majority of competitors would select the new track in preference to the University track, because of the track quality, the ground atmosphere, and the greater feeling of World Games participation. In fact, I believe we may come under severe criticism if we do not use this track."

The new track, constructed at the odd distance of 373m to fit inside an existing dog-racing track, has four lanes, with a six-lane sprint straight. It is right next to the main track and World Games registration area. Thus, most of the World Games competition would be held on the Olympic Park

The concern, of course, is the shortness of the track. What about records? "No problem," says Pete Mundle, Records Chairman of the World Association of Veteran Athletes (WAVA). "IAAF Rule 148(8) (d) mandates a track 'must not exceed' 440 yards. So a 373m track is perfectly okay for record purposes."

Callaghan confirms he has received IAAF permission to use the 373m

What about laps and lap times?

"For a 10K, there would be 26 laps at 373m and one lap at 302m,' Callaghan said.

For lap times, Callaghan says he would print up a lap chart, showing what pace-per-lap is needed to achieve a final time.

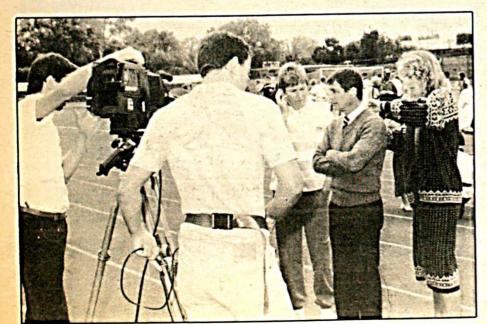

As previously announced, the new track will also be used for the 100m heats, sprint hurdle heats, and, if need be, for the pentathlon 200.

The new arrangement would enable spectators to sit in the comfortable restaurant which overlooks the 373m track, and would enable athletes and viewers, alike, to easily move back and forth between the two Olympic Park marathon point at 1:11:56.

"I thought I got there too quickly," she said, "but I decided to work for it."

Welch finished second woman overall to Ingrid Kristiansen of Norway, whose 2:22:48 fell over a minute short of her own world women's record.

Hiromi Taniguchi of Japan was the overall men's winner in 2:09:50.

It was a personal-record for Welch, bettering her previous PR of 2:28:54, run at age 39 in the 1984 Olympic marathon in Los Angeles.

Only six women have ever run a faster marathon. Her time is faster than Grete Waitz' New York Marathon wins in 1982 and 1983, and faster than Rosa Mota's Olympic bronze medal time. It's also a new British open record.

Welch won $27,500 for her secondplace effort, including $2500 for her W40+ record. Kristiansen received $40,000. The next two masters women finished more than 17 minutes behind: Britte Sorenson, 40, (2:43:55); and Anne Roden, 40, (2:44:51).

Asked what her achievement means to over-40 women everywhere, Welch said: "I think today's performance speaks for itself; that it's possible for older women to get there with the young ones. I was beginning to doubt myself, but, today, I proved it can be done."

Welch and her husband, Dave, live in Boulder, where Dave is finishing his studies in physical therapy and massage. Where they live after that depends on where he's able to locate.

In 1986, Priscilla won $47,000 in prize money — not counting appearance fees, etc. She is unique in that, in any race in which she runs, she is able to "double dip." She automatically wins first prize money for masters (no one can come near her) and wins big money by usually finishing high in the open division.

Australian T&F Championships in Sydney Serve as Prelude to World Veterans Games

by MIKE HALL

With World Games fever fast gathering momentum around the country, a record near 700 entries were received for the 1987 Australian Veterans Track and Field Championships held in Sydney over Easter, April 17-20.

Nearly fifty national and nine world age-group records were set (subject to ratification) during an action-packed four days of competition.

The feature event of the meeting was the inaugural running of the "Master of Masters Sprint Handicap," held on the second day of competition. Comprising all individual 100-meter agegroup winners, appropriately handicapped and run in two divisions (male and female), the event provided the highlight of the Championships.

In a virtual blanket finish in each race, photo cameras were required to determine the winners: Fred Turner, M45, (13.5m handicap) in 12.57, edging George Simpson, M80, (56.23m handicap) in 12.66.

In the female division, Wilma Perkins, W35, (19.2m) got the judges' nod over Wendy Ey, W45, (24.45m), despite both recording 13.07.

The event was a great innovation by the New South Wales Vets and, hopefully, it will become a permanent feature event on the National Championship program.

Undoubtedly the star of this year's meet was 41-year-old Garry Hand of Canberra. Just five days after winning the prestigious Nike Marathon in Canberra in 2:19:00, Hand toyed with his opposition in winning five consecutive events in the M40 division: 800 (1:59.84), 1500 (4:05.37), 5000 (14:51.40), 10,000 (30:33.08) and 10K cross-country (33:19). His 5000 and 10,000 times are new Australian veterans records.

Queensland's Alan Bradford, the current M45 world 1500 champion, also won all five of his events: 1500 (4:22.36), 5000 (16:05.12), 10,000 (33:43.17), steeplechase (10:01.26) and 10K cross-country (35:38).

Victoria's Mike Johnson, 65, claimed six gold and one silver medals in the 100/200/400/LJ/TJ/Discus and Pentathlon, as well as just missing the prestigious "Master of Masters" feature sprint title.

Shirley Brasher, who just moved into the W60 category, won six gold and one silver medals, including a new world W60 1500 mark of 5:56.57, nipping the old mark of 5:57.2, set by West Germany's Lieselotte Schultz in 1981.

Daphne Pirie, who recently entered the W55 bracket, set seven national and two world W55 records in the 400 (68.6) and high jump (1.31m), respectively, breaking the old marks of 70.9 (set by South Africa's Anne McKenzie in 1981) and 1.30m (set by Czechoslovakia's Vlasta Chlimska in 1979)

Those five standout performers, plus many others, are expected to be on hand for the VII World Veterans Games in Melbourne this coming November.

The competition was, as usual, fierce but friendly, and everyone who competed was, in the true sense, a "winner."

Hand Breaks Australian Marathon Record

Garry Hand, 41, a resident of the Australian Capital Territory in which Canberra is located, won the Nike Canberra Marathon with an Australian veterans record 2:19:00 on April 12. The race, also the Australian veterans championships, was his 50th marathon. The former record, 2:21:38 in 1985, was his own.

In nine previous appearances in the Canberra Marathon, Hand had never finished worse than seventh; and in 1983, he was second in 2:18:16.

Tony Luyenduk, 40, an ACT resident, was second veteran in 2:27:12, and Bruce Blair of New Zealand took third with a 2:27:53.

The women's winner overall was also a veteran runner, Annette McNeill, 38, from the ACT, who ran 2:49:43, a territorial record.

Second veteran woman was Jo Cullen, 38, from the ACT, in 3:10:30, and W45 winner Joan Sutton of New South Wales finished third with a 3:15:36.

by BRIDGET CUSHEN

One of the most lucrative series of road races in Britain today is the Kodak 10K, which attracts the cream of the country's middle-distance runners. This year, on a wet, miserable April morning, a new dimension was added with the inclusion of a British Veterans 5K Championships offering subventions of £400 ($660) to the winner, down to £100 ($165) for 4th.

The line-up included Mike Hurd, who has been running so well in the States recently; Alun Roper, the national cross country champion; Dave Clark; and Dr. Brendan O' Shea from Ireland, a silver-medalist in the marathon in Puerto Rico.

There was no doubt Roper was favorite, and he won in 15:01. The quiet-spoken Welshman was very disappointed at not having been invited to compete in the Millrose Master Mile; he is current British indoor and outdoor 1500 champion and has a string of good performances on the road. He said: "I have seen the results of the Millrose; I could have made mincemeat of those times..." He paid his own way out to the IGAL Championships in Israel. (He missed an unmarked turn when lying third in the 10K and went hopelessly astray, finishing 9th.)

The M45 title went to European 1500 champion, Mike Wrenn (16:18), while the ubiquitous Derek Wood raced off with the M55 title (17:07).

The women's race attracted an equally talented field; there was a great tussle between two West Country runners: world 800 champion Pat Gallagher, W40, and Marion Palmer, W35, who has been beating Pat over the country this year. Marion drew away over the last 600 to win in 17:20.

Despite starting together and running over exactly the same course, the first three women got a standard BVAF medal only. Whatever happened to equality?

All-American Certificate Program-

The latest list of recipients of certificates as All-Americans for achieving U.S. standards of excellence in 1986 is published in this issue.

Meanwhile, applications for 1987 performances are beginning to come in. We will publish the names of all 1987 recipients later this year.

To recapitulate the program: if you equal or better the standards of excellence in any event in your age group, fill out the form printed on the next page and send it to National Masters News with $10.00 to receive one certificate for one or more events. You may apply for multiple certificates, but each application must be accompanied by a $10.00 fee.

Each application must have an official's signature, except for TAC National or Regional Masters Championships, or if the meet results have already been published in the National Masters News. However, the weight of the implement, hurdle height, distance, etc. must be written on the application form and be verifiable through the meet results or by an official's signature. Any performance made in 1986 or 1987 can qualify.

The certificates are attractive, threecolor (red, blue and black), 81/2" x 11", suitable for framing. They will be mailed within a week after receiving your application.

We've had a few complaints that some standards are too easy, or too difficult. The idea, of course, was not to limit All-American status to elite record-holders, but to set the standards at tough, but realistic, levels which would provide a bit of incentive and recognition if the standards were met. If some standards are out of whack. the All-American Committee, headed by Jim Weed and Gary Miller, will make adjustments at the annual TAC convention this December.

National Masters News staffers checked the marks of competitors in four events in the 1986 Nationals held on Long Island, N.Y., July 18-20, against the All-American standards of excellence to see what percentage of athletes had qualified.

The events selected were the 400,

1500, long jump, and shot put (since they generally have large fields and are diverse enough to avoid the bias of great athletes who compete in several events, and who have outstanding marks in each, such as the 100, 200, and 400; or the 800 and 1500; or the shot, discus, and hammer).

In the 400, 61 men competed in agegroups M30 through M80. Of those, 33 met the All-American standards, so 54% qualified. In the M40 division, five of six met the standard of 54.0.

Twenty-four women, in groups W30 through W75, ran the 400, and 11, or 46%, qualified. In the W30 division, three of five exceeded or equaled the standard of 63.5.

The 1500 drew 76 men, from M30 through M80, with 37, or 49%, qualifying. Six of the nine M55 runners met the mark of 5:00. Two of the eight in the M65 and M70 divisions qualified, but none of the three in the M75 and M80 runners were All-Americans.

The women's 1500 had 250 runners in groups W30 through W65, and 15 of them, or 60%, qualified, with all four W40s meeting their standard of 5:19.

The men's long jump had 64 competitors, groups M30 through M80, and 48, or 75%, qualified. In the M50 group, nine of ten made the standard of 4.90 (1634). In the M30 and M35 divisions, five of 15 made the grade; however, in the M65 through M80 divisions, 16 of 16 jumpers qualified.

Women long jumpers numbered 16, eight of whom qualified, or 50%.

Men shot putters will have to pump more iron. Of the 63 entered in M30 through M80, just 15, or 24%, qualifed. Four of the six M40s met their standard of 13.00 (42-8). No M30s, M50s, M75s, or M80s (17 total) met their standards.

Ten of the 21 women throwers. 48%, in groups W30 through W75, were All-Americans, with three of five W40s qualifying with better marks than the required 8.20 (26-11).

Thus, in the four events in New York, 179 out of 350 competitors (51%) met the All-American standard.

A check of an early-season outdoor meet, the SportArcade II, in Los Angeles, March 14, 1987, showed that over 60 All-American standards had been met.

In the 1987 Indoor Nationals on March 29 in Wisconsin, 49 out of 77 (64%) long jumpers bettered the standard, while 21 of 68 (31%) shot putters qualified for AA status - an average of 51% for the two events - the same as for the 1986 Outdoor Nationals.

In the March issue, we said we would try to compile and publish a list of all those who bettered the standard in 1987, whether they sent in an application or not. We went through every 1987 meet-result published in the March and April issues, and are publishing a list of 99 athletes who have bettered the AA standard in 126 events in those meets.

However, because the number of AA achievers are more than we expected, and because many of the results we receive omit first names, hurdle heights, or implement weights, we have reluctantly decided that it would be too costly and timeconsuming to publish an accurate list of AA achievers on a regular basis.

So, in the future, we will only publish those All-Americans who apply for an AA certificate.

We suggest that meet directors note, with an asterisk on the results sheet, those competitors who bettered the AA standard. Dick Green did this in typing the results of his Midwest Regional Masters Indoor meet, published last month. Of course, this can be timeconsuming, but it would be a valuable extra service to the meet's participants and to NMN readers. [

MASTERS SCENE

NATIONAL

- Barry Brown and Gabriele Andersen were honored as RRCA Masters Road Runners of the Year at its annual meeting, May 14-17, Rockville, MD. Brown has won the award every year since its inception in 1984. Andersen won her second. Keith Brantly and Joan (Benoit) Samuelson were open male and female RROYT.
- The United States Corporate Athletics Association will conduct its national track championships on July 25-26 in Boston/Cambridge, MA. All events are either relays (races) or team (HJ, LJ, SP) scored. A team 5K RR is scheduled for the 25th, and a 10K on the 26th. Age groups for all events start at 25 and go to 55+. Twelve regional associations will offer meets before the championships. See schedule under "East" for national contact.
- The 1987 edition of the Competition Rules (t&f, RW, LDR) of The Athletics Congress is now available for $7.50 (check or money order) through the Book Order Dept., TAC/USA, P.O. Box 120, Indianapolis, IN 46206. Records are included in this year's book. Also, TAC's 1987 American Athletics Annual is now available ($8 U.S. and Canada; $12 Europe and elsewhere). This year's edition was edited by Hal Bateman in conjunction with Carol Swenson and Pete Cava.
- The Athletics Congress' list of qualifiers for the '88 U.S. Olympic Women's Marathon Trials, May 1, Pittsburgh, includes five masters among the 129 qualifiers: Barbara Filutze, Erie, PA; Sue Petersen, Laguna Beach, CA; Bette Poppers, Littleton, CO; Bobbi Rothman, Coconut Creek, FL; and Harolene Walters, El Toro, CA. Gabriele Andersen, a Swiss citizen who lives in Tahoe, is on the list compiled by Marty Post of Runner's World, who will provide updated lists in mid-July, late October, early January '88, and a final list about two weeks prior to the trials.
- "Winners All Our Lives," the inspirational film about masters athletes (April, NMN, p. 33) will be awarded the red ribbon for excellence at the American Film Festival this month. Most of the footage was shot at the V World Veterans Games in Puerto Rico in 1983.
- Exercise physiologist Dr. Peter Snell, 49, claims, "The data I have on myself suggests I can run a 4:30 mile. I've just got to get out and do some speedwork."
- NIKE has introduced a new gadget on the market, which they call, fittingly enough, the NIKE Monitor. And it does just that: at the touch of a button, the monitor tells you how long you have been working out, how fast you are moving, and what distance you have covered. The monitor is attached to a belt and weighs only 8 oz. There is also available a Heart Pulse Rate accessory; one push of the button and the digitized voice will report your current heart rate. The retail price is $200 (Heart Pulse Rate $25 extra). For more information, contact Nike, Inc., Fitness Electronic Division, 11000 SW 11th Street, Beaverton, OR 97005.
- Jennifer Young, former co-director of the National Running Data Center which closed shop December 31, 1986, says, "I'm having a blast with my new job. It's so neat not to have to do the other stuff anymore."

EAST

- Glenn Myers, 40, of Millersville, PA, with a 54:46, and Linda Toretsky, 42, of Deptford, NJ, in 1:07:35, were first 40+s in St. Patty's 10 Mile, Kutztown, PA, March 15. Moses Mayfield Jr., 42, (16:12), Philadelphia, and Carol Hopson, 47, (21:30), Kingston, PA, took the 40+races in the 5K.
- In the masters races, it was the return of the Redcoats in the MDS-Boston Milk Run 10K,

- April 12, as Britishers Alan Rushmer outkicked Mexico's Antonio Villanueva at the finish to win (30:37) and Priscilla Welch claimed her third consecutive masters victory (33:37).
- From the news release on the 1st Wall Street 4K Rat Race, NYC, April 15: "The field of 1000 Wall Streeters wearing business suits and carrying briefcases included an examination agent from the IRS, an enforcement attorney from the New York Stock Exchange, four FBI agents, the Counsel General of Australia, and a priest. More than 60% of the... runners were from financial services companies. The course, winding through the financial district, started and finished at the South Street Seaport, where at the awards ceremony, winners were served champagne and caviar while losers were served stale bread, water, and a subpoena." Sponsor Carey Limousine of NYC provided awards and prizes.
- Michael Hurd, M40, of Great Britain led the masters (2:17:53), and W. Germany's Doris Schlosser won the W40+ race (2:43:30) in the New Jersey Waterfront Marathon, Jersey City, April 26. Top masters racewalkers were Alan Price, 40, (4:15:47) and Stella Cashman, 45, (4:49:49).
- The New York Marathon will soon be known as the "New York Marathon presented by John Hancock." Hancock and ABC announced a 5-year sponsorship of the New York Marathon, to the tune of nearly $2 million. NYM, however, intends to back off dramatically on appearance money.
- On May 3 in Pittsburgh, the peripatetic Barbara Filutze, racing her second marathon in less than a month, took home $3100 for winning the Masters division and placing tenth overall in 2:50:08. (Other Masters results unavailable at press time.) Overall winner Rodolfo Gomez (2:13:07) is now 36 years old.
- Susan Redfield, 51, of Massachusetts, who won five events in the Indoor National Masters T&F meet in Wisconsin, is featured in Sports Illustrated magazine's "Faces in the Crowd" column (May 18 issue).

SOUTHEAST

 Masters winners Richard Weeks (34:43) and Gail Bailey (38:42) picked up $200 each in the Cooper River Bridge Run 10K, April 4, in Charleston, South Carolina. Head winds of 35mph slowed times, as 6200 finished.

MIDWEST

MID AMERICA

Bob Bartling, 60, Brookings, SD, covered 8 miles/1314 yards in one hour and went on to a 1:08:30 ten-mile in Brookings, April 12, to lead all M40+s.

SOUTH WEST

- Masters runners were high placers in the Mardi Gras Marathon/Half-Marathon/5K, February 15, New Orleans. In the marathon, Juan Perez, 42, took third (2:48:12), and Marian Loftin, 40, finished seventh woman (3:36:13). In the half, Bobby Dannelley, 45, nabbed second (1:15:14), and Kathy Miller, 42, was seventh female (1:38:38). In the 5K, Brendan Minihan, 41, beat everybody in 16:49, and Jody Gates, 47, ended sixth woman with a 23:19.

WEST

- Harolene Walters, W40, of El Toro, CA, who ended an especially fine 1986 with a 36:46 10K, bettered that with a 4th-woman, 36:03, April 25, in Laguna Beach, CA. Her only division defeat recently was a 2nd-place finish (2:51:33) in the L.A. Marathon, which came 30 days after she won the women's race in the Phoenix Marathon (2:47:33) and qualified for the Women's Olympic Trials.
- Richard Leutzinger, 48, Pacific Grove, CA, with a 2:49:58, and Mary Campbell, 40, Beverly Hills, CA, in 3:12:40, won the masters races in the Big Sur International Marathon, Carmel, CA, April 26. Jack Kirkpatrick, 67, Los Osos, CA, who with his son Keith, 40, may be the only father-son combo in masters marathon competition, won the M65 contest with a 3:40:52.
- Joan Stratton, South Lake Tahoe, CA, broke the U.S. W35-39 discus record of 122-11, held by Lynn Graham, twice in her series in a throwing event in Reno, NV, with a 124-0 and a 125-6.
- San Diego's Noel Johnson is off running 10K races in Norway, Denmark, Sweden, Finland, and Iceland. He'll be back home by July 7 for his 88th birthday.
- Correction of race results: At the Sportarcade II 10,000 Meter run in Walnut California last month, Gary Skiles (and not Randy Bown as indicated) ran 36:29. Bown actually ran 38:09.
- Bill Cosby has been using the Univerity of California's Edward's Field to keep in shape while working on a new movie in Oakland. While being mobbed by fans at the film's shooting location, Cosby has been able to find a good, relaxing training environment with many NCSTC athletes.

Thelma Rubin reports, "Bill (I'm on a first name basis since he put his arm around my shoulder) is amazingly friendly and relaxed with his fans. Is there anyone not a fan of Bill Cosby? He coached several of us and we were inspired to run our best training intervals."

NORTHWEST

• On May 3 in Spokane, Wash., 54,010 started the Lilac Bloomsday 12K. Among a multitude of high-placing men internationalists, Englishmen Mick Hurd easily won the Masters division (and $1000) in 37:32 over Americans Pat Murphy (38:28/$800) and Steve Lester (38:32/$600). American women, on the other hand, dominated, including top three Masters Bobbi Rothman (44:28), Susan Henderson (44:51), and Juana Stavalone (45:30). Rothman's course-record win netted her $1250 in prize money. Gary Novotny, 37, of Tacoma, Wash., suffered cardiac arrest and died shortly after finishing the race.

INTERNATIONAL

- According to the May issue of Runner's World, England's Ron Hill, 48, three-time Olympian and Boston Marathon winner in 1970, has completed at least one run a day since December 20, 1964, for a streak of more than 8000 days. Other top streakers are Bob Hensley of Milford, CN, with a stretch dating back to November 7, 1969, and Ken Young of Tucson, AZ, who has been out daily since July 4, 1970.
- Mike Hurd, M40, second to Alun Roper (15:01) by two seconds in the Kodak 5K Classic in Britain, April 4, went out the next day and won the veterans prize in the Reading Half-Marathon in 65 minutes.
- Top three masters in the Peninsula Marathon, Cape Town, S.A., March 7, were Eric Bateman (2:24:13), A. Lemos (2:26:09), and D. Rountree (2:26:10). Benning was organizer of the West Province Masters T&F Championships held at the Coetzenberg track at Stellenbosch University, March 27-28. Stellenbosch is where Zola Budd ran into the world limelight about four years ago. In the WP meet, 12 S.A. and 41 provincial records fell. Kalie van Zyl, M60, led the assault with a national recordequaling time of 16.3 in the 100m H.
- In the South African Marathon Championships, also held at Stellenbosch, on May 2,

NATIONAL MASTERS NEWS The official world and U.S. publication for Masters track & field, long distance running and race walking.

June, 1987 Section II

New Track & Field Age-Group Records

n this issue are new world and U.S. five-year age-group track and field records for men and women age-35-and-up.

The marks are those compiled and approved, as of May 10, 1987, by the Records Committees of the World Association of Veteran Athletes (WAVA) and the Masters Track & Field Committee of The Athletics Congress (TAC), both headed by Records Chairman Peter Mundle.

Included are pending records for which documentation has still not been received by WAVA or TAC (such as marks from the VI World Veterans Games in Rome in 1985).

The official WAVA/TAC record forms are printed on this page. Meet directors should keep several copies on hand, fill them out and mail them to Mundle if a potential record is set. Athletes can aid their own cause by carrying a copy to meets for officials' signatures.

Mundle has made a noteworthy change in the U.S. shot and hammer marks since the last published list (NMN, July, 1986). In the 50+ division, he has listed imperial (American) weights for U.S. records—since U.S. competitors generally use "pound" weights-rather than the "kilogram" weights officialy used on the world level. For example, Parry O'Brien's world M50 shot mark of 58-11/2 (17.7lm) has been eliminated from the world marks, since his throw was with the 12-lb. shot, not the official world M50 standard of 6 kilograms (13.33 lbs.). However, his throw remains an American M50 record and is so listed.

Mundle has proposed WAVA change its rules so that the imperial standards are used for the 50+ shot and hammer. Rationale: the Olympic competition in those events are conducted in pounds, not kilograms. "WAVA should be consistent, and use pound weights for both those events," Mundle said. WAVA will take up the debate at its biennial meeting in Melbourne, Australia this November.

1987 Masters T&F Age-Record Book

The 1987 edition of Masters Age Records, containing world and U.S. single-age bests for each event, has been delayed and will not be available until July.

Long Distance Records

No LDR records or rankings have yet been prepared by TACSTATS, which took over the U.S. LDR record-keeping process from the National Running Data Center on January 1, 1987. NMN will publish them as soon as available.

Meanwhile, TACSTATS has prepared the current single-age marathon records, along with the U.S. five-year age-group marks ratified at TAC's 1986 convention. Both are printed on page 27.

A RACING SHOE SHOULD BE EASY TO FORGET.

At 6.2 ounces, the hardest thing to remember about the Nike Air Sock is that you have it on. It fits like it was custom made. With a Contoured Footbed. Anatomically correct last. Stretch-mesh forefoot upper. And full length Nike-Air. A revolution in motion.
