PARTICIPANTS AND SPECTATORS:

On behalf of the Oregon Track Club Masters, I welcome you to Eugene and the beginning of a new era at Hayward Field. The 1987 TAC National Masters Track and Field Championships is the inaugural event on the new 400-meter track and infield improvements.

The traditionally strong track and field programs at the University of Oregon have produced a community of knowledgeable fans and superior officials. As host for three Olympic Track and Field Trials, five NCAA Championships, the 1986 TAC Championships and home of the Prefontaine Classic, Eugene enjoys the reputation as the "Track Capital". With this experience, and the remodeling of Hayward Field, Eugene has been selected as the site for the 1988 NCAA Track and Field Championships as well as the United States bid for the 1989 World Veterans Games.

Members of the Oregon Track Club Masters are justifiably proud to be a part of this rich tradition and are eager to share with you the excitement of the first competition to be held on these new facilities.

Again, welcome to the community and we hope you enjoy the competition and your visit.

Sincerely,

OREGON TRACK CLUB MASTERS

Welcome!

It is with great pleasure that I welcome the National Master's Track and Field Championship participants to Eugene this August 14-16.

The Masters is one of the most impressive levels of track and field competition. It is the culmination of a lifetime of dedication and training for those who compete in it. It seems only appropriate that you should be the first to use our newly refurbished Hayward Field.

It is my sincere hope that your event is most successful and rewarding.

Sincerely,

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON

August 3, 1987

Dear Participants:

On behalf of the University of Oregon, I am delighted to welcome you to the National Masters Track and Field Championships on August 14-16, 1987.

We are pleased that this championship meet will be held again at the University of Oregon and especially pleased that it will inaugurate the newly reconfigured track at Hayward Field, the site of so many exciting track and field events.

The University is proud of its rich tradition in track and field, and we wish to extend a special welcome to the visiting Master competitors from Canada and Mexico, whose presence will add to the meet the thrill of international competition.

Again, warm greetings from the University of Oregon. We hope that you will carry with you when you leave many fond memories of your time here and that you will come back and visit our lovely campus again.

Cordially,

Eugene and Hayward Field

Eugene was founded by and named for Eugene F. Skinner, who came to this spot on the Willamette River in 1846. Eugene has a population of 106,000. With its neighboring city of Springfield, the Eugene metropolitan area population is close to 200,000.

Eugene is the seat of government for Lane County and home of the University of Oregon which opened in 1876 and now enrolls more than 17,000 students. Eugene is a lumber and agricultural center, as well as a prime recreation area.

Living midway between the Cascade Mountains and the Pacific Ocean, Eugeneans enjoy skiing, fishing, hunting, boating and biking, as well as running. More than a thousand acres of parks, extensive bikeways and jogging trails and a three-mile canoe course allow easy access for the outdoor enthusiast.

Eugene enjoys its reputation as the "Track Capital," thanks to its knowledgeable fans, venerable Hayward Field and a strong tradition of track and field established during the Bill Hayward and Bill Bowerman eras at the University of Oregon and carried on today by not only the men and women competing in the green and yellow of the University, but by a number of other national and world-class athletes who've made Eugene their home.

Host for three Olympic Trials and last year's TAC National Championships, Eugene is the site of the TAC Masters National Championships this summer. Next spring, the University of Oregon will play host to the NCAA Championships for the sixth time.

Hayward Field, built in 1919, is undergoing major renovation. The wooden East Grandstands, constructed in 1925, were moved back some 35 feet in March to make way for our new 400 meter oval track. Renovation plans also include refurbishing the old grandstands, a new weight room, and a warm up track.

Funding for the renovation is a cooperative effort involving the Oregon Track Club, the Bowerman Foundation, the University of Oregon, State of Oregon, County of Lane, and the cities of Eugene and Springfield, as well as individual contributions through the 400 Meter Club.

GREETINGS:

It is my pleasure as Governor of the State of Oregon to welcome you to Oregon for the National Master's Track and Field Championships. I am very happy that Eugene has the opportunity to host such a prestigious event, and I am certain that you will find Oregon an excellent location for this event.

I would like to extend an especially warm welcome to those of you from out of the state and from abroad who have come to Oregon to compete. We are proud that you have chosen to participate, and we hope that you return to Oregon soon.

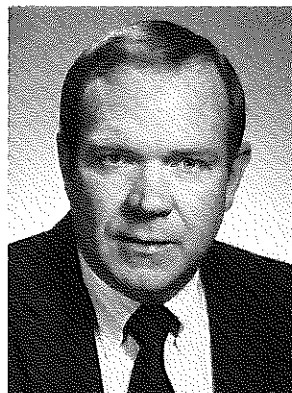

It is fitting that the National Master's Track and Field Championship should take place at Hayward Field, the site where many famous Oregon athletes began their athletic careers.

My best wishes for a successful competition to all of you. Again, Oregon welcomes you. I hope that you enjoy your stay.

Bill Hayward, Track Coach, University of Oregon 1903-47

Hayward Field-Stevenson Track

The Bill Hayward my generation (1903-35) knew was already a long time legend.

His first Olympian from Oregon was Dan Kelley of Baker, Oregon. Kelley was not only an Olympian, but a medal winner in 1906 and held part of the world record in the 100 yard dash.

A long green line of Olympians were coached by Bill Hayward; also world record holders and national champions at the collegiate level and in the AAU. Ralph Hill, Boyd Brown, George Rasmussen, George Varloff, Orv Moeller, Paul Starr, Mack Robinson, Walt McClure and Les Steers, to name just a few of those who benefited and excelled from Bill Hayward's mastery of coaching.

What else did this great man do to endear him to his town, state and the USA? When the University of Oregon outgrew its original athletic field on Kincaid Street, it was Bill Hayward who led the community in building a field east of the University where the great of track and field still compete in world record events. Bill helped hammer together the original grandstands in 1916 and 17.

Besides his own beloved track and field he coached every sport, including women's sports of the early University of Oregon.

The greatest fisherman on the McKenzie was Bill Hayward. He was a naturalist, ecologist and environmentalist years before those terms became fashionable. For friendly, practical jokes he had no peer. He was an inspiring leader and an ally of integrity in teaching and sports at all levels of education.

I am absolutely certain that those people who had the opportunity to be "touched" by Bill Hayward benefited that day and through the rest of their lives. He was the great single influence in my personal sport and education experience. It was my greatest privilege to have been his disciple and to inherit his "mantle" for 25 years.

The exercise of all the muscles of the body in their due proportion is one great secret of health.
WILLIAM HALL
English Poet

Today's chiropractor is aware of the importance of exercise in maintaining health and keeping a balanced body. In fact, due to the demand of America's top athletes, a chiropractor is now a member of the U.S. Olympic Medical Staff. Athletes, everywhere, are utilizing chiropractors to assist in the prevention and rehabilitation of sports injuries. The benefit of chiropractic health care is not a great secret.

Sure, we've tried other motels, but the Best Western motels in Eugene were just what we were looking for. The people there were some of the friendliest you'll find, and all their rooms are extra large, air conditioned, with cable TV and in-room movies. They both have a swimming pool and sauna facilities, and they offer team discounts, as well. And convenient? Why, they're both right down the street from Hayward Field.

Oregon Track Club: Building a Track Capital

For over 25 years the Oregon Track Club has been an inseparable part of track and field in Eugene.

The track club had its origins as an off-shoot of the Eugene Active Club which provided officials for local track meets. In 1958 the Emerald Empire Athletic Association (EEAA) took shape to provide a club for post-graduate University of Oregon athletes, and to support a range of athletic events in the community.

In 1965 the EEAA narrowed its focus to track and field and changed its name to the Oregon Track Club.

In its 25 years of service to Eugene and the University of Oregon, OTC has helped manage and staff AAU, NCAA and AIAW championships, three Olympic Trials and the Pan American Trials, as well as an annual schedule of University meets, all-comer meets, road runs and prestigious invitational meets.

Members of the Oregon Track Club have spearheaded efforts to resurface Stevenson Track at Hayward Field, to build the West Grandstand and repair the old East Grandstand. The club has an ongoing commitment to maintain the Hayward Field facility and to provide financial and working support for the men's and women's track programs at the University of Oregon.

The club has blossomed into a well-rounded program which includes track officials, a masters section, a road race officials' group and various organizational committees. The club annually sponsors the Prefontaine Classic, ten summer all-comer track meets, the Nike-OTC 25K, The Race, the Butte-to-Butte Run, the OTC Cross Country Invitational and monthly road runs. OTC officials also work at numerous other competitions, including University of Oregon meets, the state high school championships, Pre's Trail Run and the Oregon Indoor.

The Masters section was founded in 1981 under the leadership of Bill McChesney and Lew Thorne, both outstanding athletes as youths and now outstanding competitors as Masters.

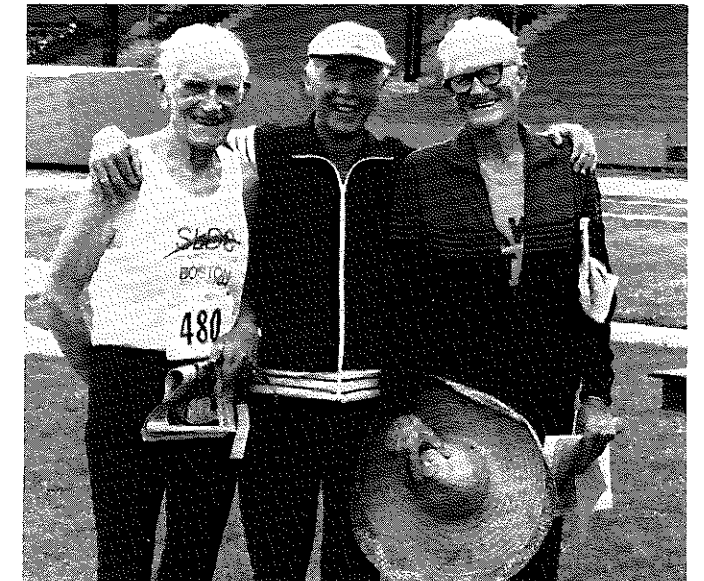

McChesney was the first president, serving in 1981-82; followed by Thorne, 1982-83; Dale Grace, 1983-84; Charlie Fleishman, 1984-85; Barbara Kousky, 1985-86; and David Hess, current president.

Each summer the OTC Masters hosts the Hayward Classic, a regional masters track and field competition, and stages one of Oregon's major road races, "The Race." Now in its fifth year, The Race draws competitors from throughout the region with some 3000 participating. The course swings through Eugene's south side with the finish at the Eugene City Hall. Names of winners, including age-group winners up through 70+ years, are recorded on a bronze plaque permanently installed at the entrance to City Hall.

Among membership programs are monthly meetings with guest speakers, coaching clinics, an equipment lending "library," a track and field summer camp for masters, a monthly newsletter and other activities.

In addition to hosting this year's Nationals, the Masters section hosted the 1984 National Championships and in 1986 was awarded the United States bid site for the 1989 World Veteran Games.

Membership in the Masters section of Oregon Track Club is open to competitors of all levels, age 30 and above.
