September, 1971

Dear Friends:

The summer meets are over, we are looking expectantly to the fall and cross-country season. We recall our efforts of the previous year and hope that when we run the same events this autumn, that it won't be too hot; blisters won't develop on the right toe; and that we can break 58 minutes next Saturday in the Balboa Park 8-Mile. It is also time to reflect on this past track season and our accomplishments - or lack of them - and hope that next year will see a fantastic change in form and P.R.'s for us all. Perhaps the thought of the competition in Europe will spur us on to train harder and achieve these goals always approachable but seldom attained.

Perhaps we should feel sorry, at least momentarily, for those unconverted pour souls who never "bust a gut" working out 8 - 10 miles at 6:00 a.m. each morning and therefore never enjoy the true personal satisfaction in accomplishing those standards we have set for ourselves.

SCandinavia in '72

As our plans for London and Koln are firm, we have directed our efforts to the details of the Scandinavian tour and numerous letters have been written to national tourist bureaus, athletic unions, track clubs and travel organizations. As a result we can now publish a TENTATIVE itinerary for the Scandinavian segment of our tour.

On leaving London Saturday, August 26, we fly directly to Helsinki (average mean temperature, September, 53°) where on Sunday, August 27th, we hope to engage the Finnish veterans in a full track and field meet. The next day, Monday, we travel by bus to Vierumaki Sports Institute near Heinola, 75 miles northeast of Helsinki. We expect to spend 2 - 3 days here deep in the Finnish woods bordering one of this country's 60,000 lakes. The Finns, as you must be aware, are exceedingly sports and nature conscious, and much of their national income is devoted to establishing facilities such as Vierumaki where many of their national teams train. These centers are devoted exclusively to sports and physical fitness. While there, we hope to engage in competition of some type...perhaps cross-country or orienteering. On departure we move, again by bus, southwest approximately 125 miles to the seaport of Turku, where we board the ferry for Stockholm. For those who have never experienced a Scandinavian ferry ride, you are in for a surprise as the vessels are exceedingly commodious and serve fantastic smorgasbord over which you can daily...since the voyage to Stockholm takes approximately 10 1/2 hours.

We have allowed two days in Stockholm (average mean temperature, September 54°) a very interesting city with numerous places to visit and eat, with competition also scheduled. Upon leaving Stockholm, the capital of Sweden, we journey due west to Oslo, capital of Norway, where another sports encounter is planned. Then we move by bus along the coastline of the Skagerarrak, 150 miles, to Gothenburg, Sweden, where the vice mayor of San Diego is hand-delivering our personal request to the mayor of that city (which is this year celebrating its 350th anniversary) to stage an athletic competition for our group.

From Gothenburg we board the ferry for a 3 1/2 hour voyage across the Kattegat to the Danish port city of Frieredikshavn for a glorious two day bus tour of the Danish countryside culminating, hopefully, with athletic competition in the beautiful city of Copenhagen (average mean temperature, Sept., 58°). After a brief stay we are off again on a fairly lengthy trip (950 km) to Koln, Germany....including another 1 hour ferry ride from Rodby Paere, Denmark, to Putgarden, Germany. We will probably make this last leg on one of Germany's crack electric trains which, like the ferries, serve excellent meals. On our way the train pauses at Hamburg, Bremen, Dortmund and Dusseldorf.
As for competition in Scandinavia...we expect to engage in track and field competition at least four times with cross-country runs and some orienteering thrown in.

For the wives, non-competitors, and those interested in the other aspects of the tour, arrangements are being made for sight-seeing and numerous social functions...such as drama, art, and music festivals. Although the tour's primary objective is to compete, it is worth considering the many other aspects. It is our plan that this be a people-to-people program with the unusual opportunity of meeting, competing with, and "getting-to-know" friends of similar age and interests in six foreign countries. This may prove to be the greatest benefit flowing from the U. S. Masters tour.

THE AAMU MASTERS CHAMPIONSHIPS

Britain's greatest hammer thrower, HOWARD PAYNE reports on the friendliest and most enjoyable meeting in his experience.

The 4th United States AAMU Masters Track and Field Championships were held in San Diego, Southern California, from July 2nd to 4th, and it was my great privilege to take part.

I have competed in many competitions all over the world but never before. I experienced the warm friendship and sheer enjoyment of athletics that prevailed in the Balboa Stadium that weekend.

In the relaxed atmosphere and pleasant sunshine mature men forgot about the cares of the outside world and indulged themselves in meeting old friends and making new ones while enjoying the physical pleasure of athletics. The contest was fierce but track men mixed with field events men and rivals coaxed and advised each other. It was very friendly and efficient and the crowd was appreciative. We all know that weut can't compete against men 10 years or more younger whom we fear that what we can achieve is as important as competing. The exercise must be good for their health.

The moving force behind this organization, which to me is the most important step forward in athletics for many years, is the San Diego Club led by David Pain and Ken Bernard and their willing helpers. Need I add that they all manage to compete as well as devoting many hours to organizing. The British Veterans have been running many years (though field events are a recent addition) and the Germans are advancement in this side of athletics. Now we have a movement to try to co-ordinate the movement worldwide.

He is bringing over 200 masters athletes to Europe in 1972 for two major meetings—the British Veterans Championships and an international in Cologne. Men of all ages and walks of life can become eligible!

I am most grateful to Maid Johnson of Nunnery, the Champions Fund and the International Athletics Club for sponsoring my trip to America. I want to thank you all for the way you looked after and took care of me. In particular I want to mention the enthusiasm of Mr. and Mrs. Simon, studying in California, was most hospitable and also took me training at the well known Long Beach track. It was sheer pleasure to work out in the sunshine which made warming up so easy and seemed to massage away all the oil aches and pains of the British winter weather. Often I iced and undressed back permanently to Britain next year when we ought to see him and Dave Travis pushing each other on to the 300 mark. By the way, John and wife Sharon should be bearing the pater of tiny javelin thrower's feet any time now.

In San Diego I stayed at the beautiful home of David and Helen Pain in La Jolla, which is on a hill overlooking the Pacific Ocean. David, an Attorney at Law, is a very healthy looking Division 1 athlete who sports a Yul Brynner hairstyle and drives an Enzene when he isn't either riding a racing bicycle or running up hills. In addition to running, the home and raising their four children, Helen spends more than 4 hours a day working on the secretarial side of the US Masters. Among the athletes competing was Cliff Bond. Cliff, as many British athletes will know, was only a few years ago when he emigrated to Australia, the physiotherapist on the international team. Now, a Division 2 master athlete, Cliff competed in the 1000, 2000 and the marath- on in three consecutive days! In previous Masters Championships, Cliff had won the two shorter distances, but this time he brought John Gilmore with him and John was ungrateful enough to beat his mentor! Cliff wishes to be remembered to all his friends in Europe.

Taking second place in the discus throw from me was John Pavelich of Canada. He was com- peting the Payne—Pavelich family bond because Rosemary had competed against his daughter, Joan, in the Edinburgh Commonwealth Games. First in the hammer throw, where he is the number one time holder of the world record at 59.28/1946.5.

There were some other big men in the field. Events. Twenty-three Mill Banger, a world great in the 1950's and still a powerful figure in Scottish Harriers and Guest, and a huge last throw in the shot which would have won him the competition if he hadn't dropped it. He was a good man, a good type of bloke. Even the winner, George Ker, was sorry for Bill. Former world record holder Bud Held was disappointed with a throw in the javelin which would have been the envy of many an athlete 20 years younger. Steve Seymour, silver medalist in the 1948 Olympic javelin, could still win his Division 2 with a throw over 100 and take the title. Peter Dwyer, a fellows peak.

That likable extrovert Peter Holmes, a 9.3 100y sprinter of yesteryear, had us all in tears of laughter talking about how he had run his heart out in the 400m of the Masters 'Six', only to be awarded a score of zero for the event! George Robson was there striking magnificently round a flag of the 4000 relay. Bob Beckus, known to many British throwers of the last 30 years, showed that his mastery of hammer technique hadn't diminished.

There were others who had made their marks in other spheres besides athletics—perhaps the most famous of these was US senator Alan Cran- ton, competing in the Division 1 100m where he ran 12.5 in a heat. In the final, however, he stopped running with a pulled muscle.

British Veterans! We shall have to show these Americans that they can't have all our titles when they come to the British Open Vet's Championships at Crystal Palace on August 24th and 25th next year! I know that our runners are 'training hard, but what about you field events men? In addition to all those mentioned is Mel Watman's baton throw and an Australian in Australia, Sydney Coleman, Arthur Gold, Don Vanhegan. Etc., had better get back into training!

Anyone interested in Scottish field events—and track for that matter—should contact the British Veterans Hon. Sec., Joe Fitzgerald, at Tyers House, Aldringan Road, London S.W.16.

It Will Take Olympic Effort to Find a Bed in Munich

By STEVE CADY

With the 1972 Olympic Games only a year away, Sid Josephs suddenly realized that the other Olympic bid had better start thinking about how to get to Munich.

"I'm the usual avid sports fan," he said, "and now I've got the Olympic fever. The loser is there. I'm planning to take my wife and my brother and his wife. How do we get the rooms and tickets?"

Like a lot of other Americans, the president of Manhattan's Avanti Associates Ltd. is getting a late start. Most of the 8,840 beds and 115,000 single-event Olympic tickets in the Initial American allocation were snapped up during the first sales period that ended Aug. 14.

He realizes, however, the situation is expected to improve within the next month or so with the German Organizing Committee completing its reassessment of housing/ticket supply and demand.

Josephs and the other late starters won't get a room in Munich. But neither will any of the early-birds among the regular American applicants. They'll all be staying in other Bavarian towns like Garmisch-Partenkirchen, Munich, and Oberammergau, 50 to 75 miles south of Munich in the foothills of the Alps.

They'll pay $5, $10 or $20 a night for a single bed, and private baths will be empty in this season. The weather may be breathing, but the Americans will spend up to two hours getting to the Olympic site by car, bus or train.

Choice rooms and tickets to the more popular events will be reserved for those who are able to book early. The demand will be equally limited, but the Olympic Games by only 4,444,000 to 7,440, which includes tickets for the Summer Olympic Games in Munich.

Send a postcard (easier to process than a letter) to the Olympic Sales Department, American Automobile Association, P.O. Box 41, Franklin Street, Washington, D.C. 20044. Include your full name and address, and the message "Please send information regarding the second sales period for housing and tickets at the Summer Olympic Games in Munich."

Start with a Postcard

By mid-October at the latest, information on the second sales period for housing and tickets made available through the anticipated re-allocation. Under the original distribution, 4,444,000 Olympics tickets at 33 to 338 were allocated to Germany. The tickets are scheduled to compete in the Games next year, Aug. 26 through Sept. 10.

Prices will vary by competition and stage of the particular event. The popularity of the sport involved and the hotel location and demand of the market demand is always bigger than the cash demand. Actually, there aren't as many people going to Munich as the sporting event and ticketing fayre suggest.

Josephs, with the American Automobile Association, sole agent in the United States for the Munich Games and tickets, is taking a more cautious approach.

"We don't want to sound like alarmists," said J. Xay Alidus, the association's public relations director. "At the same time, we don't want to give people false expectations. We are all doing our best to provide accommodations and tickets they want. Most of our rooms and tickets have been sold. We have asked for more."

For Americans in search of Olympic tickets and housing, Alidus suggested the following first step:

Send a postcard (easier to process than a letter) to the Olympic Sales Department, American Automobile Association, P.O. Box 40, 8 Franklin St., Washington, D.C. 20044. Include your full name and address, and the message "Please send information regarding the second sales period for housing and tickets at the Summer Olympic Games in Munich."

A.A.A. Bought 8,840 Beds

By order of the German Organizing Committee, tickets and housing for each country will be released in the same package.

"This means," said Lentz, "is that nobody who happens to have relatives in Munich will be entitled to buy tickets separately from the American Automobile Association.

"The Onc effective plan to stay with Uncle Max in Munich, then Uncle Max will have to get the tickets there."

The A.A.A. signed a contract with the German organizers, and Adler's, to handle the distribution. April after the original choice for United States agent, Diners Fugazey Travel, faltered in its effort to transport tickets for the country. Diners Fugazey, a foreign subsidiary of Diners Club, Inc., had been accepting housing and ticket applications since July 1970. All those requests are still being considered.

"We are completing the American allotments, which include the U.S.A.," said Adler. "The certificates of the American allotments were purchased by the A.A.A. for the entire 16-day Olympic period. In addition, the rooms were reserved for a few days on each side, making the extensions to Aug. 13 through Sept. 13. That period has been divided into 11 time segments, with five nights the minimum, and two sales, a minimum purchase for that span.

"Seven-fifty percent of the rooms are in hotels, pensions and guest houses, the rest in private homes. Eighty percent of the accommodations are $10 a night per person, without meals."

Beginning May 17, A.A.A. sent out information forms and application blanks to all members who had asked for them, as well as to travel agencies. Applicants must be accompanied by checks for the required amount, and there are no refunds.

Because of a no-refund clause, a number of travel agencies and local A.A.A. clubs did not apply for the tickets or rooms. Applicants will not receive the actual tickets until near Aug. 14.

The Great Bed Mystery

One of the major mysteries surrounding the Olympic housing situation is the sudden disappearance of hotel space in Munich.

"When the president of the Organizing Committee visited New York in 1970, he promised 45,000 beds in Munich and 75,000 within an hour's drive of the city. This would be an "Olympics of short distances," he said.

According to Lentz, the last word from the Olympic Committee is that only 20,000 hotel rooms of all descriptions exist in Munich, and that only 10,000 of them have been "released" to the German Organizing Committee.

The 10,000 available rooms will be used to house Olympic officials from the various countries, officials of German sports federations, politicians and other VIP's.

"Supposedly, the 10,000 rooms that have been labeled "unavailable" are being held for regular guests of the hotels. However, this explanation has been disputed by some critics, who say the rooms will be sold to the highest bidder.

And in Sapporo . . .

Tickets and housing for the 1972 Winter Olympics next Feb. 3 through 13 in Sapporo, Japan, are being handled by the Japan Travel Bureau.

American planning to attend this competition must first apply for housing accommodations. Once those are acquired, the applicant is entitled to request the sale of two tickets for the games.

Further information may be obtained from Japan Travel Bureau International, Inc., 45 Rockefeller Plaza, Manhattan.
UNIFORMS AND ATTIRE

A great deal of time and thought has been devoted to the selection of the team uniform and other accessories. We are sure you will be pleased with our determinations as to colors, designs and emblem.

Each athlete will receive, as part of the tour package:

(1) Running Uniform;
(2) Nylon Windbreaker;
(3) Team "T" Shirt.

The running uniform (not shown here) is custom designed and manufactured by SPANGAN and will consist of a light blue nylon jersey with white band across the chest on which the team emblem will be silk screened. The trunks will be all white with red piping.

As OPTIONAL clothing we have acquired a very handsome fine quality nylon all white Finnish warm-up suit. This garment has flattering stripes on the legs and arms. It is form fitting, comfortable and easy to rinse out. The team emblem will be affixed to the jacket.

Also available for social occasions is our team blazer of light weight blue sack-cloth material. This well tailored garment has the team emblem placed on the left pocket and should be worn with grey slacks.

We have arranged with the Road King Shoe Company for a special work-out shoe complete with red, white, and blue stripes which compliments the uniform.

The "T" shirt - light blue with emblem - is currently available. We ordered four dozen for the U. S. Masters reception and they sold like hot cakes. This "T" shirt is available now. Price $3.00 plus 50 cents postage. Order one or more and wear it for work-outs and races. The other runners will thus learn of the U. S. Masters Track Team and will hopefully join. These shirts tend to shrink, so order one size larger than your regular size. They make a great gift for the kids.

All of these items are being manufactured to order and the prices quoted are based on quantity purchases. Our order must be in to the various manufacturers not later than December 31, 1971, therefore, we must ask that you get your order in to us (form enclosed) by December 1, 1971.

The warm-up suits and Road King shoes are available on 90 day order. The running uniform, nylon windbreaker and blazer will be delivered just prior to our departure in 1972. Extra uniforms, jackets, shoes, etc., may be ordered for your use or the members of your family going on the trip.
