1403 Compete in Track & Field In Oregon

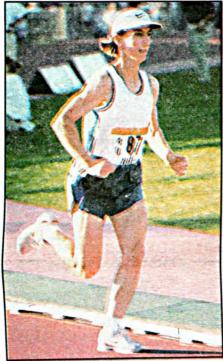

Nike World Masters Games Draw 11,000

The good news is that more than 11,000 athletes - including 1403 in track and field - participated in the fourth Nike World Masters Games in Oregon, August 9-22.

The bad news is that only 11,000

Medalists in the W40 1500 (I to r): Julie James, of Oregon, first (5:18.37); Betsy Seth, of Oregon, second (5:25.30); and Joy Cordell, of Washington, third (5:25.37) athletes - including only 1403 in track and field - took part in the quadrennial event.

This dichotomy, espoused by people who saw the same event in different lights, is that the final numbers, despite being substantial, fell far short of the original estimates of 25,000 total and 4000 T&F athletes. As a result, some reviewers called them "disappointing."

Nevertheless, the magnitude of the Games was impressive. More than 100 nations were represented. It was the largest gathering of masters athletes ever assembled in the USA, surpassing the 8000 who came to Tucson, Ariz., in 1997 for the National Senior Sports Classic.

With 1403 entries in the T&F competition, it was the biggest masters meet held in the U.S. this year, outdrawing the 1061 who came to Orono, Maine, for the U.S. Nationals.

The Games consisted of 25 sports for masters athletes - generally age-30-and-up, depending on the sport. The Games are held every four years under the auspices of the International Masters Games Association (IMGA). This year they were staged by the Portland Sports Authority, a group formed to attract tourist dollars to

Indy Life Circuit competition heated up at the Crim Festival of Races 10 Mile in Flint, Mich., on Aug. 22. With the race serving as both an Indy Life Circuit event and the USATF masters 10 mile championships, Craig Young and Ruth Wysocki blazed to USA masters titles under warm, humid conditions. England's Keith Anderson and Ukraine's Tatyana Pozdnyakova defended their Crim masters titles, but were ineligible for the USA masters title or Indy Life Circuit points because they are not residents of the Shooting for the American masters record of 49:46, the 42-year-old Young, Colorado Springs, Colo., expressed his disappointment at not being able to hang with Anderson, who clocked 49:45. "I should have been able to get that, but I didn't have it today," said Young, whose finish time was 50:33. "I just couldn't go with Keith."

While Young couldn't go with Anderson, no other American could stay with Young. Second place finisher Charlie Gray, 44, Lee's Summit, Mo., finished nearly three minutes behind in 53:20. Gary Romesser, 47, Indianapolis, Ind., placed third in Wysocki, 41, finished in 57:21 to set a U.S. single age record and moved into first place in the Indy Life standings. Both Wysocki, Canyon Lake, Calif., and Young earned $1750 in masters prize money for their wins. While Young had Anderson to chase, Wysocki likewise couldn't quite catch Pozdnyakova, who won the masters division in 57:05.

Jane Welzel, 43, Ft. Collins, Colo., was second behind Wysocki in the Indy Life and U.S. championship race,

Records Fall in USA Decathlon

by TOM THORNE

The 27th USATF National Masters Decathlon & Heptathlon Championships were held on July 25-26 in Neosho, Mo. Participants had high praise for the meet, especially for the degree of community involvement in the event, which included an international team challenge between athletes from the U.S., Canada, and Poland.

Despite high heat and humidity, many new championship meet records were recorded. Fifty-nine-year-old Emil Pawlik, Jackson, Miss., tied his high jump record of 5-5 and bettered his javelin mark of 136-2, both in the 1996 championships in San Diego, with a

Dan Bulkley, 81, Phoenix, Ore., held a new meet record in the shot put for about 15 minutes, but E. Lee Todd, of Nebraska, surpassed Bulkley on his final throw with a 29-83/4. This was

by JANNA WALKUP

In a battle of 41-year-olds, former Olympian Steve Plasencia, Shoreview, Minn., nipped England's Keith Anderson at the finish to secure a masters win and $3000 at the 26th running of the Harvard Pilgrim Health Care Falmouth Road Race, Falmouth, Mass., August 16.

Plasencia and Anderson, who won $1500, both posted times of 34:37 on the 7.1-mile course, with Plasencia winning by less than one second. Kenyan Peter Koech, 42, placed third in 35:47 and had a $750 payday. Rounding out the men's top five were Jon Sinclair, 40, Ft. Collins, Colo., 36:12, $500, and Allen Choma, 45, Westerville, Ohio, 36:42, $250.

The women's race also went down to the wire, as 41-year-old Joan Benoit-Samuelson, winner of the 1984 Olympic marathon, defeated 43-yearold Jane Welzel, 1997 Indy Life Circuit Grand Prix masters champion. Benoit-Samuelson, who hails from Freeport, Me., clocked 39:14, while Welzel, Ft. Collins, Colo., crossed the finish in 39:27. Third place went to Ukraine's Tatyana Pozdnyakova, 43, 41:10. Kim Jones, 40, Spokane, Wash., 40:49, and Cindy Barber-Keeler, 40, Lake Worth, Fla., 40:51, placed fourth and fifth, respectively. The women's prize money structure was identical to the men's.

Besides age group bragging rights, 50+ masters had an additional incentive of $500 on the table for men's and women's winners. The legendary Bill Rodgers, 50, Sherborn, Mass., 38:18, and Peggy Couper, W50, 53:21, snatched up victories. Rodgers, along with Benoit-Samuelson, is a past overall winner of the race. W60 winner Elizabeth Jazowski turned in an impressive 58:38 to claim an age group title.

A New England tradition, the Falmouth race is sponsored by Harvard Pilgrim Health Care, the largest non-profit health care organization in New England. The scenic race winds along the shore and past a lighthouse, finishing at the beach in Falmouth Heights.

NIKE WORLD MASTERS GAMES

There were many reasons not to attend the Nike World Masters Games. The entry fee of $200 was huge, and the competition schedule was another unnecessary money vacuum. Common doubles, such as the 200/400. 800/1500, and short/long hurdles all required one week-plus stays in Eugene, Ore. Had the anticipated 4500 athletes appeared, the schedule might have been unavoidable. Unfortunately, as entries materialized against repeated entry deadline extensions, no provision was made for compression of the schedule. Many events, set for finals after two qualifying rounds, required only finals.

There were those among us who elected not to participate in order to send a message of objection to the entry fee. While the fee was unprecedented in masters track, so was the involvement of major corporate sponsors and national publicity for a masters meet. For those who could and chose to participate, the experience was as rich as the entry fee.

was as rich as the entry fee.

The staff of Northwest Event Management, officials, and volunteers (who seemed to outnumber competitors) were well-organized and responsive. Events went off at the time scheduled. While competition was, in most events, thinner than at the USATF Nationals in Maine, we enjoyed the privilege of mingling with and competing against our international athletic comrades.

Perhaps, as a group, we are not willing to support such an undertaking. Nike was. Hopefully, this was a good start, but if the Nike World Masters Games marks the only time I have an opportunity to compete in such a generously supported international meet, I will always remember the experience fondly and with thanks to those people and businesses which made it possible.

Douglas G. Schneebeck Albuquerque, New Mexico

Those who did not come to the Nike World Masters Games missed a memorable experience. As usual, Eugene did it again. Meet Directors Tom Jordan and Barbara Kousky are to be congratulated on doing a fine job.

The officials were friendly and accommodating. Check-in and declaration were easy, even for those who were unfamiliar with procedures. This meet was for the athlete at all times.

The only improvement could have been more attendance by athletes. Many stayed away because of the $200 entry fee. A mistake, as we feel the return was worth more than what we paid. There were many extras: a competent medical staff to take care of injuries and sore muscles, free massages, a Nike sports bag, unlimited events, free transportation, T-shirt, water bottle, results (minutes after the event), banquet dinner, and the most expensive, beautiful medals we have ever received.

And the friendship and camaraderie were priceless.

Chuck Sochor Lincoln Lake, Michigan Earl Fee Mississauga, Ontario, Canada Masters t&f athletes are well-known for helping and rooting for one another, but that was never better demonstrated than at the Nike World Masters Games in Eugene, Ore., where I was involved in two typical examples of masters friendship and one not-so-typical.

While competing in the pentathlon, I fouled my first two javelin throws and was in danger of blowing the whole event. With cheers from all my competitors, I managed a decent throw in my final attempt. That was followed by handshakes from all, including the eventual Russian winner, who spoke no English but was obviously fully aware of the situation.

Two days later, while I was warming up for the high jump, an announcement was made over the P.A. system, asking if anyone could lend a size-13 HJ shoe to a competitor (in a different age group from mine), who was also warming up and had torn the heel from his shoe. Since we were competing in back-to-back pits, I found him easily and offered to share my shoe with Bill Abbott, After discussion with both sets of competitors and officials, it was agreed that we would pass the shoe back and forth with some accommodation in jumping sequence, if necessary, to allow both of us to compete.

The final example of one competitor helping another is in a different category. While dining with two of my competitors, Larry Armstrong and Luigi Schiavo, following the HJ competition, I found myself choking on some food. After struggling in vain for perhaps 10-15 seconds to clear my throat, I realized I was in trouble and signaled for help. Larry came to my aid, performing the Heimlich maneuver, but didn't have much luck and called for help from others in the restaurant. Eventually, they were successful. A very frightening incident ended happily, as once again one competitor came to the aid of another.

Congratulations and thanks to the competitors for being dedicated athletes, great friends, and life savers.

ALAN BEARDALL

Unfortunately, Alan Beardall, listed as entering a new age group in the September issue, died Dec. 1, 1988 in England, when a truck plowed head-on into his car, killing his wife as well.

Alan, a pioneer in the field of clinical kinesiology, is best known in Northern California, where he grew up in Santa Rosa, as the winner of the 1963 Dipsea Race. The Race's Family Trophy was renamed for him in 1989, and its first winners were Alan's son, Tim, and brother, Darryl, who, at age 61, by the way, has apparently run more miles (at least 250,000) and won more races outright (over 300) than anyone in the U.S.

ASSOCIATION UNITY

I have read with great interest the report on the joint meeting of representatives from WAVA, International Masters Games Association (IMGA), National Senior Games (NSG), USATF and IAAF on Aug. 7, 1998 (A Historical Meeting Convenes in Portland, Sept. NMN). The meeting was organized and hosted by Ken Weinbel, USATF National Masters T&F Committee Chairman.

It is high time these disparate masters associations joined hands to discuss matters of common interest and work on coordinating their respective programs. Of priority is the scheduling of dates as well as location of national and international events. Master athletes have to pay their own way and have limited resources and times available for competition. This year the Nike World Masters Games took place the same month as USATF Masters Nationals - 3000 miles apart. Most athletes were forced to elect one or the other, with the result that both events suffered.

A world event can conceivably also incorporate the national championships of the host nation in certain sports. When the 1989 USA National Masters Championships were held in San Diego the week prior to the WAVA championships in Eugene, Ore., we enjoyed an entry of 1500 athletes, which included some 500 foreign masters bound for Eugene. The only additional expense was the medals awarded to the foreign athletes. The infusion of foreign athletes elevated the level of competition as well as enthusiasm at the meet.

The same situation occurred in 1975 when we held the AAU Masters Nationals in White Plains, N.Y., one week prior to the first World Masters t&f competition in Toronto. Such synergies can only take place when two or more athletic associations coordinate their competitions to complement one another.

The preeminence of WAVA as arbiter of masters athletes should be manifest. WAVA has spent nearly 25 years in association with masters governing bodies to develop and refine the rules of masters athletics, establishing that both male and female masters are capable of creditably performing all athletics disciplines.

WAVA is also capable of providing insight and guidance to such fledgling organizations as the National Senior Games, a.k.a. Senior Olympics. The Senior Olympics, although nationwide in scope, has had a provincial attitude, generally catering to the less qualified athlete, and, in many instances, failing to excite participation by many of the better masters athletes. A major event does not induce beginner participation by watering down the challenge level of the events offered.

I am informed that the Nike meet in Eugene was well conducted by Barbara Kousky and Tom Jordan, as it should have been, since both have close ties to WAVA. The Eugene athletics community enjoys a fine reputation for its promotion of excellent track and field events. This was essentially a WAVA production.

In order to make an affiliation work, it will be necessary for the participating organizations to form an "Olympic" type umbrella organization coupled with oversight authority, which means participating associations would have to subordinate their individual goals. Considering the number of sports involved, this may be difficult to achieve.

I have always viewed the world games multi-sport concept as the best vehicle for masters sports in that a large number of participants – note the success of the Brisbane Games with 24,000 participants – can appeal to sponsoring governmental entities willing to organize and fund such an event as a major tourist attraction. Further, international commercial sponsors can also be brought into the fold; whereas the individual sports federations lack sufficient clout.

It was on this basis that I, in cooperation with Bob Fine, proposed in 1988 that WAVA consider getting into the multi-sport business. Our entreaties, unfortunately, fell on deaf ears at that time. As a result, IMGA has carried the ball through four international games with varying degrees of success, and will, I am sure, strike gold in Melbourne in 2002, provided its organizers can profit from Portland's mistakes.

KUDOS TO OFFICIALS

Over the past several weeks, I've been privileged to participate in several meets here in the West: the Hayward Classic, Western Regionals, Nike World Masters Games, National Weight & Superweight Championships, and National Weight Pentathlon.

I cannot say enough positive things about how well these meets were organized by the directors and how efficiently and professionally they were executed by the officials judging the events. In all these events I was particularly impressed by the field event judges. Their attitude, flexibility, and attention to detail were outstanding and very much appreciated by me and I'm sure by the other field event folks, both national and foreign.

To Ruth BreMiller, Frank Lulich, Robin Paulsin, Doug Single, Ken Weinbel, and Lloyd Higgins and all their officials, I must say thank you for a job very well done!

The Lessons of Running

aving completed the transition from competitor to fitness runner or simply jogger, I recently looked back on the many years of competition and asked myself what I learned from the experience. The lessons were many. To begin with, I learned that I could run faster and longer than I had ever imagined during the first 35 years of my life. But then, upon accomplishing what I had never imagined, I learned that I could never live up to my new expectations.

I learned that I could work a lot harder than I had ever realized possible, but then I learned that I could work too hard and go in reverse.

I learned that one can get very fit from a lot of running, but I also learned that one can become disabled from too much running.

I learned that you can go out too fast and "die" and that you can go out too slow and never catch up.

Slow vs. Fast

I learned that long, slow mileage in training can mean big gains, but that short, fast mileage is just as important.

I learned that winning can be fun and fulfilling, but I also learned that winning can bring unwanted pressures and harmful stress.

I learned that a low place with a good time can be more satisfying than a high place with a not-so-good time.

I learned that a good loser is better than a poor winner.

I learned that running can result in many friendships, but I also learned that it can hurt close relationships by taking away quality time with loved ones.

I learned that too much success can result in false pride, but I also learned that running can bring an abundance of humility.

I learned that excess weight can significantly slow you down, but too little weight can leave you weak and deplet-

I learned that other activities, such as weight training and biking, can help your running, but I also learned that if you do too much of those activities it can hurt your running.

I learned that stretching is important if one is to maintain flexibility and stride length, but I also learned that too much stretching can make you too supple and take the "snap" out of your running.

I learned that a lot of variety helps maintain motivation, but I also learned that too much variety causes one to stray from the disciplined path.

I learned that rest is important, but I also learned that too much rest can set you back.

So What?

I learned that the people I tried to impress most could not have cared less.

I learned that proper hydration is essential, but I also learned that too much hydration can result in restless nights and lack of sleep.

I learned that your fiercest rivals can be your best friends.

I learned that best tasting foods can hurt your running and that the worsttasting foods can help it.

I learned that you can get faster with experience, but I also learned that you can get slower with age.

I learned that running can be a positive addiction, but it can also be a negative addiction.

I learned that the biggest material prizes can come from the smallest accomplishments and that the smallest material prizes can come from the biggest accomplishments.

Something For Nothing

I learned that the most treasured rewards come from within and cost nothing.

I learned that the most expensive shoes are the ones with the best support, but I also learned that I ran fastest with the least expensive shoes and little support.

I learned that I did my best when I started a race with a somewhat pessimistic attitude and did my worst with an overly optimistic attitude.

I learned that popular races can be the least enjoyable and the unpopular ones the most enjoyable.

I learned that going short can be much more difficult than going long.

I learned that the faster runners offer some of the worst tips and that the slower runners offer some of the best tips.

I learned that the "best" courses in our so-called tough sport are the easy ones, while the "worst" courses are the tough ones.

Speedy Wimp

I learned that if you're muscular and macho you're not going to run very fast, and I learned that if you want to run fast enough to be called an athlete you have to be something of a wimp.

I learned that when I had a lot of spare time, such as on weekends or vacations, I found it difficult to get to my training, but when I had little time, such as on workdays, I did my best training.

I learned that if you want your heart to really put out in a race you should have a slow pulse.

I learned that if you have too many fast twitch fibers you'll be slow in the long run and if you have a lot of slowtwitch fibers you'll be fast in the long

I learned that there are a lot of contradictions in running and that the key is balance mixed with just the right amounts of patience, persistence, and perseverance. Isn't that the way it is in the rest of life?

Crim Road Race

crossing the finish in 58:24. Cindy Keeler, 40, Lake Worth, Fla., 59:12, and Jeanne Lasee-Johnson, 41, Chula Vista, Calif., 59:30, also came in under the one hour mark to place third and fourth, respectively, in the Indy Life race.

In addition to Wysocki's record, several other U.S. age group records fell, despite the balmy temperatures. New York City's Rae Baymiller, 55, returned to top masters competition with a bang, shattering the W55 fiveyear age group record with an impressive 1:02;39 (93.5% on the age-graded tables). The record had stood for more than 10 years. Both Wysocki and Welzel had times that age graded over 90% (world class), and Welzel also made her mark in the record books, setting a single-age record. Not to be outdone, 67-year-old June Machala, Spokane, Wash., maintained her lead in the Indy Life age-graded competition and set a U.S. single-age record (1:18:29).

Two men age-graded over 90% -

Young, in his quest for the American masters record, and 78-year-old Warren Utes, Park Forest, Ill., whose 1:11:39 (93.6%) was good for another U.S. single-age record. Utes holds a four-point lead over Young in the Indy Life age-graded standings, 279 points to 275. It was the second consecutive Indy Life age-graded win for Utes.

The competition in the M65 division featured Kansas age-group standouts Paul Heitzman, 67, and Dick Wilson, 66, with Wilson finishing in front of Heitzman, 1:05:44 to 1:06:52.

Other top masters performances at the Crim included M55 winner Jack Nelson, 58, Winnetka, Ill., 59:09; M60 winner Fay Bradley, 60, Washington, D.C., 1:01:46; M70 winner Jim Forshee, 72, Ann Arbor, Mich., 1:09:10; W45 winner Victoria Crisp, 46, Nashville, Tenn., 1:03:55; and W50 winner Joan Ottaway, 54, Sonora, Calif. 1:05:27.

The Crim 10 Mile set a record for entrants (6070) and finishers (5414), and featured a masters purse of $15,600.

PROFILE

Keith Anderson

by RON MARINUCCI

orty-one year old Keith Anderson proved to be almost as good a weatherman as he is a runner. The day before the Crim Road Race 10 Mile in Flint, Mich., Anderson said, "I think it's going to be too humid; but if it's not, I'd like a go at it." What he was going at was John Campbell's nine-year-old masters world record for ten miles (47:55), set here at the Crim.

Humid it was for the Saturday morning race. At 8 a.m., start time for the record 6072 runners, the humidity read 90%. During the race, it crept a bit higher.

While the humidity kept most runners' times slower, it didn't prevent Anderson from winning the masters crown, his second consecutive Crim title. It also gave him another win on the Indy Life Circuit. "Winning the masters, that's most important," said Anderson.

Although Anderson missed Campbell's mark, his 49:44, good for 15th overall, was 48 seconds better than runner-up Craig Young. Because he is a British citizen, Anderson could not claim the USATF 10-mile championship, which went to Coloradan Young.

Tearing Up the Road

Since turning 40 in 1997, Anderson has been tearing up the American roads. Besides Crim, among his wins this year are the Carlsbad 5000 and Azalea Trail 10K, which came on a weekend double. The week before the Crim, he finished second at the Falmouth Road Race on Cape Cod. Last September, he posted a masters world road best for 20K at New Haven (1:01:37). He was also the second masters finisher at the '98 Boston

VICTOR SAILER/PHOTO RUN Rae Baymiller, 55, NYC, ran the best age-graded performance (93.5%) with a U.S. W55 record 62:39, Indy Life Circuit/Crim 10 Mile, Flint, Mich., Aug. 22.

Marathon (2:17:08), of which he said, "It didn't go particularly well. I ran too many races before... I can prepare for a marathon better than I did then."

And prepare he has. The British Commonwealth Games are on tap for Anderson. Running in the marathon, he will be the oldest athlete to compete at the games since the 1950s.

But his story, he admits, "is not typical." A chef by trade, ten years ago he was overweight, smoking a pack of cigarettes a day, and doing some drinking, too. After meeting his future wife, he had what he called "an early midlife crisis," thinking, "there's more to life" than what he was then doing.

He quit smoking, which he had started at 14 years old. "That was difficult short-term, but not that hard to give up. Eating and drinking were harder. I still like a good glass of wine or beer."

Stumbling Along

"I began jogging or," he chuckled, "stumbling a half-mile a day, off roads, on trails." As he continued, "I discovered I had this very competitive nature. Even though it hurt, I felt I had to run faster than the last time."

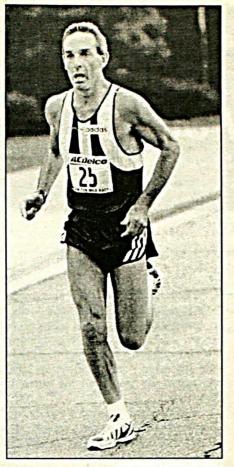

That competitive nature led him to "fell running." Fell running is common in his native northern England. It consists of running "fells" or hills. It can vary, he said, "from twelve minutes straight up-and-down to a three-hour horseshoe run."

"My first fell run, I was terrified. But I finished in a good position, exhausted, but exhilarated. It, the competitive bug, really kicked in. Three years later I managed not to get lost, stayed on my feet, and became the British (fell) champ.'

He decided to move on to crosscountry, where he placed fourth in the nationals, out of 5000 runners. Road races, mostly 5Ks, followed.

In a bit of an understatement, he explained, "I realized it was something I was good at. I surprised my wife. I went from a slob who smoked and drank, to someone who looked almost anorexic." He still weighs only 142 pounds. That's about ten "stone."

A few sponsors, including adidas, allowed him to begin training fulltime. He shook his head as he remembered. "A full-time athlete. I wouldn't have believed it five years ago, certainly not ten years ago when I was opening my next half bottle of wine."

VICTOR SAILER/PHOTO RUN Keith Anderson, Great Britain, defended his title in the Crim 10 Mile with a 49:45.

He thanked his wife. "I'm lucky to have my wife, who let me train...not wonder if I could have been really good."

A Foreign Curiosity

Anderson has trained in Kenya, with the Kenyans, twice. "Villagers all came out to see me, like Livingston or somebody." The villages had no electricity or running water. "These people had never seen a white man. Thirty kids would chase me on long runs. They'd touch me to see if it rubbed But they were all friendly, especially the world-class Kenyan runners. He expanded on that: "The world over, I've yet to come upon a nasty runner.' Later he quipped, "I'm sure they exist. I just haven't met them."

Early on, he overtrained. "I nearly gave it up. I got ill... I pushed too hard, trying to get better, to prove something. I said, 'I've got to change.' I found a sports scientist to help train me."

He learned how to train, using a treadmill and a heart monitor. He learned "to balance hard work, which I can control, and relaxation." Again he credited Kenyans, this time not for their terrific work ethic, but for knowing how to relax. "They can sit on rocks at the side of the road, do nothing but sit and watch the world go by, or read a paper, and not move for two or three hours."

Anderson encourages older athletes, his success giving testament to his words. "Reach your potential. People say, 'You're forty or fifty or sixty. You're too old.' Rubbish!" he said. "Make realistic goals. Look at them more carefully. Plan." He cited weight training and stretching as ways "to improve a little bit."

Take A Break

But he also preached patience and rest. Using his own training as an example, he pointed to his 110-120 mile weeks, with a tempo run for lactate threshold ("where you get the most improvement") and a long run ("fairly tough in itself"). "I try to work in interval work, two sessions, 10 x 1000 meters or 10 x a mile." He'll do that for two weeks. "Then the third week is an easy week, maybe sixty miles. If you try to go five or six weeks without an easy week, I think that's when you go off the edge."

After the Crim, Anderson returned to England for a bit of time with his family. But it was only a short break. Then he was off to Malaysia for the Commonwealth Games

Portland through sporting events.

Most of the events were held in Portland, with the T&F competition at Hayward Field in Eugene.

Best Meet Ever

The Eugene meet was arguably the best-organized masters T&F meet ever held. Led by experienced masters meet directors Tom Jordan and Barbara Kousky, the meet was virtually flaw-less. Athletes could read their times on the scoreboard within seconds after they crossed the finish line. The event ran on schedule. The paper flow was superb. The awards ceremonies went smoothly. The medals were beautiful—the biggest ever seen at a masters meet.

There were no lap-counting errors. At the Friday night barbecue, the food and the camaraderie were plentiful. The free shuttle bus system was frequent and on time, the only downside being that fewer athletes rode the buses due to the less-than-expected entries.

All three local television stations had film at 6 and 11. The Eugene Register-Guard ran daily stories and results. The officials were outstanding, courteous, professional, and numerous. The dormitory accommodations were excellent and the cafeteria food was above average. Numerous volunteers helped out.

"I'd never heard of this place," said Dace Brakanska, W40, of Latvia. "Now I know it's the best place for track and field in America."

"If this event had been anywhere else, I probably would not have gone," said Terry Pliner, M60, of Green Bay, Wisc. "Whether you're an open athlete or master, this is the ultimate place to compete."

Of the 1403 T&F entries from 51 countries, 891 (63%) were from the USA.

Track and field competition was held in 5-year age groups for men and women, beginning at age 30. Medals were awarded to the first three placers in each event.

Oldest Athlete Ever

For the first time ever in masters competition, an athlete over age 100 showed up. Ben Levinson 103, of Los Angeles, delighted the crowd and audiences with some clever quips and a shot put of 10 feet, 11/4 inches, which automatically became a new world record for age 100+. He became an instant celebrity. Two nights later on the Jay Leno Tonight Show on NBC, he reportedly improved his throw by two feet.

Making their masters track & field debuts were former Olympians Ron Laird, Dick Fosbury, Lee Evans and Joan Benoit-Samuelson.

In many events, the competition was at a world-class level. Eleven world and 13 U.S. records were established in the 12-day festival (see separate competition story on page 9).

Games Nearly Cancelled

With about 10,000 family members and friends included, the Games had an economic impact on the state of Oregon of about $21 million, according to standard economic estimates.

And yet the Portland Oregonian headlined: "Athletes and Sponsors Disappointed in Games; Nike Gets Blame for Event Failure."

The paper reported the Games will finish with an operating loss of $500,000.

"Although disappointing," the story said, "the shortfall is a relatively modest sum for an organization that, for months, danced on the edge of a financial precipice.

"The low point came in March when, according to three World Masters Games Board members, the event's primary lender, U.S. Bancorp, demanded the organization repay its three-months' overdue loan, reportedly between $800,000 and $1 million. The bank could have pulled the plug, but. . . . was persuaded by financial heavy-hitters to ease off."

Organizers plan to narrow the budget deficit by selling office furniture and other assets as well as laying off most Games staffers early.

"A $500,000 loss is nothing for an event of this size," said Kousky. "Portland made some wrong assumptions and costly mistakes, but they were still able to pull it off. No one else could have gotten all the sponsors they did."

$5 Million in Sponsorships

Indeed, the Games attracted 18 "world sponsors." Of the total budget of $12 million, sponsors' cash contributions approached $5 million, not far off the budgeted amount.

In a way, it was an amazing breakthrough. Never before had that much corporate sponsorship been drawn to an event with "masters" in its title.

The National Senior Sports Classic, using the magic name "Senior Olympics," has been successful in attracting corporate sponsorship, but many marketing people have long felt that the term "masters" was unsellable.

The Portland event proved that selling "masters" may be difficult, but not impossible.

$200 Entry Fee

Almost everyone agreed the fall-off of projected entries was due to the high entry fee of $200 per athlete.

"You don't see very many people from the ghetto here, do you?" asked Hylke van der Wal, M60, of Canada.

"The biggest reason for the lack of participants is the entry fee," said Martha Mendenhall, W35, of Tacoma.

Doug Single, the Games' Chief Executive Officer, admitted the fee was too high in some sports, but "nobody cared in badminton."

"The experience was as rich as the entry fee," said Doug Schneebeck of Albuquerque, N.M.

"The return was worth more than what we paid," agreed Chuck Sochor of Lincoln Lake, Mich.

(See comparative sidebar.)

The well-attended clinics at Hayward Field were held by Payton Jordan (sprints), John Thomas and Dick Fosbury (high jump), Ron Laird and Yue Ling Chen (racewalking), Mac Wilkins (discus), Joan Benoit-Samuelson (distance), Willie Davenport (hurdles), and Tom Petranoff (javelin).

National TV sports network ESPN ran two-and-a-half hours of the Games, featuring many of the 25 sports, including track and field.

Was $200 Entry Fee Justified?

Was the $200 entry fee at the Nike Masters Games justifiable?

"Yes, definitely, when compared with the entry costs of a WAVA Championship," said Barbara Kousky and Tom Jordan, co-commissioners of the track and field competition at the Games.

Replying to criticism of the fee, they said:

"Let's take a real person as an example in the World Masters Games. This person entered a total of six events (he could have entered even more for his $200). Those six events at the WAVA Championships in Gateshead next year will cost him 80 pounds, or $130.88 ($1.630 exchange rate). In addition, if he wants to attend the athletes' party, it will cost $37.62. A program will cost $8.18, a results booklet will cost $16.36, for a total of $193.04. (All of these items were included in the $200 NWMG fee.)

"And this $193.04 WAVA cost does not include the other items which were included in the NWMG $200 fee, such as free massage, chiropractic, sports bag, t-shirt, unlimited fresh fruit daily, and technique clinics, among others. The clinics alone, featuring Mac Wilkins, Willie Davenport, Joan Benoit-Samuelson, Dick Fosbury, et al, were worth the price of admission. The medals awarded were literally of Olympic quality.

"The difference, of course, is that athletes can choose not to buy the additional items at a WAVA Championships. For an athlete interested in only one event, and not interested in the normal extras athletes tend to purchase, it proved too expensive. And these folks by and large did not enter. But for a large majority of those who did enter, the cost was not out of line."

Single said Games' organizers underestimated the money and marketing needed for a 25,000-person event, and he was disappointed that city and state governments didn't contribute more money.

He said organizers learned the Masters Games are an event for 10,000 to 15,000 people. (The first Games in Toronto in 1985 drew 4000; 8000 came to Denmark in 1989; and 24,000 attended the Brisbane Games in 1994.)

In 2002, the Masters Games will return to Australia – to Melbourne, site of the successful WAVA World Veterans Championships in 1987.

11 World Records Set in World Masters Games

When track & field fans hear "Hayward Field," they envision an eight-lane oval swarming with world-class runners, forgetting that it may be one of the best venues for field events in the country, especially for throwers. The shot put, javelin, and discus are held in the center of the infield, a rarity at most sites, and the hammer area is a few steps away from the track.

No surprise then that of the 11 world and 13 U.S. pending records broken or set, 21 were in the field events, and 14 of those were in the throws. Three bests were set in the 2000 steeplechase, a new event with the 30-inch barriers.

Shot put records by older athletes don't gather much media coverage, but the one by Ben Levinson, of California, received national notice and earned him a spot on The Tonight Show with Jay Leno. Levinson is 103 years old and the oldest individual ever to set a t&f world record, with a put of 10-11/4, which he reportedly surpassed before a national television audience on Leno's show after his performance at Hayward Field.

Other world record performers were also noteworthy for superior achievements. Canada's Debbie Brill, 45, upped the W45 world record of 5-3 for the high jump by over five inches to 5-81/4 which age grades to 100% and better than a 7-foot jump. Ed Lipscomb, 47, Oregon, increased the M45 pole vault world record from 15-71/4 to 16-0, an age-graded 100% and the equivalent of a vault in the 20-foot range. Dan Bulkley, 81, Oregon, ran a 97.2% 59.67 in the 300H, about eight seconds better than the M80 world record, and did a 92.1% 17.31 in the 80H for a U.S. record.

Mary Bowermaster, Ohio, absent from major competition for several years, returned with a flourish, scoring world W80 records in the high jump (2-11¹/₄) and long jump (9-1¹/₂) and U.S. records in the shot (22-6¹/₄) and javelin (44-7). Lenore McDaniels, Virginia, continued to revise W70 records with three, finally overcoming the 6-10³/₄ barrier in the pole vault with a 7-0.

Ladislav Filip, Eugene, Ore., who had the good fortune of joining the M70 ranks on Aug. 8, two days before the meet started, broke U.S. records in the discus (149-6) and hammer (151-6) and totalled a pending world best 4666 in the weight pentathlon. Hammer thrower Marilyn Senz, W35, North Carolina, added some four feet to her pending mark of 153-10 made in the 1998 Nationals, Orono, Me., with a 157-7.

Times on the track may not have produced a host of records, but there were some exceptional marks. In the 100, every men's age-division race but one was won with an age-graded, world-class 90% or better. Payton Jordan, 81, California, topped all performances with an A-G 99.7% 14.60. Vladimir Vybostok, Slovakia, and Pete Crombie, Australia, waged eye-catching duels in the M50 100 and 200. Vybostok, 51, took the 100 (11.80, A-G 94.1%) from the 53-year-old Crombie (11.92, 94.4%) but was second (24.59, 91.3%) to Crombie (23.93, 95.1%) in the 200. Zdenka Musinska, 41, Czech Republic, won the 100 (12.28) and 200 (25.56) with 90% performances.

Earl Fee, Canada, competing at the top of his age-group at 69, topped all other age-graded performances in the 400 (61.62, 95.1%), 800 (2:19.48, 100%), and 1500 (5:05.35, 93.0%). Submaster Bill Bushnell, 33, California, broke the 4-minute barrier with a 3:59.38 in the 1500.

Robert McCusker, Connecticut, prevailed over a large M45 field of 23 in the 5000 with a 15:59.19. Joan Benoit-Samuelson, 41, Maine, winner of the first women's Olympic marathon in Los Angeles, won the 5000 in 71:03.34.

John Roberts, 40, Florida, winner (15.10, 91.6%), and Stacey Price, 44, New Mexico, second (15.16, 94.7%), staged one of the most thrilling finishes of the entire meet in the M40 110H. Heidi Sause, 44, Oregon, posted the women's top hurdles performance with an 88.4% 12.75 in the 80H.

High jumper James Barrineau, 43, Virginia, finished with a 96.6% 6-8.

The most exciting match-up in the throws came from Joe Keshmiri, 60, Nevada, and Peter Speckens, 63, Germany, in the M60 shot and discus. Keshmiri struggled in his first shot attempts until he finally hit the 50-11 mark to outdistance Speckens by 3/4 of an inch. Speckens, however, took some consolation with an A-G 100% to Keshmiri's 94.8%. In the discus, Keshmiri won by less than two feet, with a 184-6, but again, Speckens (182-11) took A-G honors, 93.6% to 88.3%.

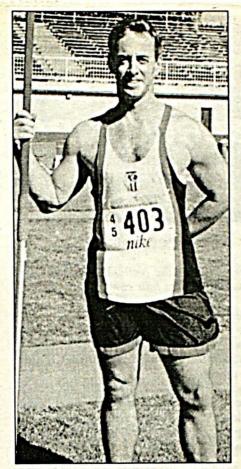

Tom Petranoff, 40, Rhode Island, broke the M40 U.S. javelin record again but with a lesser mark (243-11) than his 249-2 at the Nationals in Orono. Gertraud Schonauer, 61, Austria, stretched the W60 javelin world record to 130-11, an age-graded 96.2%.

Throwers from the former Eastern Bloc countries dominated the men's hammer, exemplified by M45 winner Florian Kulczynski, 48, Poland, who heaved the 16-lb. implement to a 92.6% 192-11.

The highest scorers in the pentathlon were Michael Janusey, 40, Pennsylvania, 3586, and Kathy Jager, 55, Arizona, 3262. Speckens saved some energy after his battles with Keshmiri to score the best total (4893) in the weight pentathlon. Joan Stratton, 46, Arizona, was the highest scorer among the women (3766).

Rich Friedlander, 54, Missouri, 24:30.86, 88.0%, and Lorna Thompson, 71, Australia, 34:17.95, 84.9%, were the best performers in the 5000 racewalk on the track. Bohdan Bulakowski, 48, Poland, 48:27, 87.2%, and Kelly Murphey-Glenn, 37, Idaho, 53:38, 80.4%, were the standouts in the 10K racewalk.

Just as they did in the hammer, Eastern European men garnered gold medals and notice in the distance races. among them were Alexander Tsoukanov, 54, Russia, winner of the M50

Orono – Four Perspectives

ast month, Phil Howell's article reported on the National Masters Outdoor T&F Championships. This month features four competitors' experi-

Tish Roberts, W45. (Two silver medals: 5K 27:26.07; 10K 57:37.03.)

This was the first time I have ever done a national event. I hadn't decided to do it until six weeks before the deadline. It was then that I started serious training. I had been training 3 to 4 days a week and shifted to 6 to 7 days a week. I also watched what I was eating and lost some pounds.

I guess I peaked at the right time. I made PRs at both races. In the 10K I took two minutes off my time; and in the 5K I took one minute off my time. After doing a good 5K on Friday, I thought that I wouldn't do anything in the 10K on Sunday, but everyone's enthusiasm, meeting people I had read about and putting faces with names, the beautiful weather and food – all played a part.

The Orono races showed me that it was in me to do well. One of the problems I have had is a lack of self-confidence. Jeanette Smith and Jackie Jessup Rietz are my competitors here in Indianapolis. I have always been behind them in races.

Compete With Yourself

My friends have told me that I have myself beat at the start line. Then I started thinking about time. I would tell myself, "Don't worry about Jackie or Jeanette. Just worry about beating your time." When I started thinking about times and not thinking about beating Jackie or Jeanette, I started improving.

In Maine, I anticipated coming in fifth or sixth in my age group. You never know what your body is going to do when the starter says, "Go!

Last spring I did the 20K in Yellow Springs. I had trained hard for it, doing 12-mile walks every week. When I got to the start line, I felt I was ready, but at 6K my body shut down. I couldn't move. I hit rock bottom.

In May, I entered the 15K Championship in Illinois and finished in 1:31. I was tickled to death. Now when I get to the start line, I just pray for a healthy and good race.

Jane Dana, W75. (Two golds: 5K 35:10.20; 10K 1:12:13.58.)

I think the early morning weather and the carnival-like, congenial atmosphere of the meet contributed to good racing in the 5K. I didn't push myself before the race, but just thought relaxing thoughts. The same thing was true for the 10K.

I also decided that I would concentrate very hard on my races. I had set goals of doing the 5K in as close to 35:00 as possible, and 10K in 1:12:00.

Lack of Concentration

For all my trying, I still had two mental lapses during the 10K. One time I thought my competition was passing me, but, fortunately, when she passed, I noted she was in the W60 age group. The second time, I missed checking my lap time. Having specific lap times helps me concentrate because I tend to get bored in a 10K. I lost a few seconds because of my lapse

A 5K race is short enough that I just go all out. However, I always think about my technique. Having Margaret Walker in my age division was a big help. Also, when Tom Eastler announced that Miriam Gordon (W70) was on pace to set an American Record, I kept thinking, "I have to keep going. I am going to do it, too!"

Jack Starr, M70. (Gold: 5K 29:05.46; silver: 20K 2:12.35.)

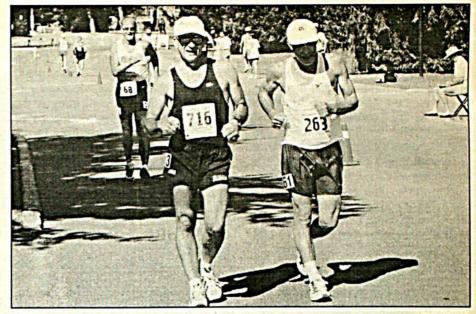

First of all, I enjoyed the whole experience. I had never been to the University of Maine campus in the summertime. It's really idyllic. As for the races, they were very well organized and everybody seemed to do a really professional job. There was a very good race announcer. Every lap, he would mention you by name, which is very flattering and very personal. There was a good crowd, too. I was just smiling for the whole three days.

In the Lead

The competition in my 5K heat wasn't too good. It should have been, because Bob Mimm was there and Bill Flick. But Bob was a little off and Bill. although he doesn't like to hide behind injuries, had some sort of injury. So I jumped out in front and led the whole way. I have just entered the M70 group and was in a race with older people.

Usually, I race with 60- and 55-yearolds. In those races I might lead my age group, but I was never out in front for a whole race. I really didn't know what to do. I kept thinking, "Where is Mimm? How far behind me is he?" I was certainly pleased to win, and even more pleased to set an M70 5K record, but, frankly, I hoped that I would walk a little faster.

When we got around to the 20K, Mimm showed me who was boss. He

Max Walker (716), third M50 (1:53:25), in the early stages of the 20K racewalk, with M65 winner, Max Green (1:52:43), followed by Jack Bray, second M65 (1:59:03) National Masters Championships, was very strong. He told me that he really didn't know what happened to him during the 5K, but he just didn't have a whole lot. In the 20K he had a whole lot, and I came in second. Bill was in the 20K but his plan was to survive. Bill is such a nice guy that if he beats you, you can still smile, congratulate him and mean it.

Paddle Peril

Another great thing happened at Orono. Before both races, the head judge announced, "I have instructed my judges to use the paddle even though it isn't a requirement." I thought that was great. In fact, Ed Gawinski and many others felt the same. However, when I glanced at the DQ board after my third lap in the 20K I had two warnings. I hadn't received a paddle and was terrified as I had seven more laps to go. I don't think it kept me from beating Mimm, but I was stalking him the first three laps and promptly stopped stalking. Fortunately, I didn't get any more calls.

Shirley Dockstader, W65. (Gold: 5K 31:12.38; silver:10K 1:04:45.93.)

I think Orono was an absolutely joyous experience. I have never enjoyed a Nationals as much, because I felt very relaxed. The people were wonderful. The setting was incomparably beautiful - the trees, the small town feeling, and the temperature. Then, of course, we had time to see some of Maine, which was a wonderful experience. The spirit was very, very positive and people were up. It just seemed as though we had more time to really get to know each other.

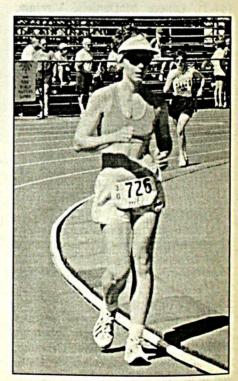

Goodwill

I fell in love with June-Marie Provost, who is in my age group. We helped each other have really good races. I think this is the very special thing about masters racewalking. Everyone encourages everyone to do the very best they can. During the last half lap in the 5K, when I passed June-Marie, she said, "Go for it, Shirley." And I thought, "Isn't that a beautiful way to compete." And, of course, the 10K is her race, and I was just as happy for her when she got such a good time.

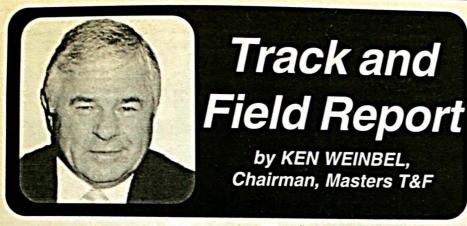

Right after the Nationals, I went to Mt. Shasta for six days of Qigong training. Qigong is the granddaddy of T'ai chi. Its purpose is to strengthen the energy in the body. Qigong actually means cultivation of the Chi energy in the body.

Then, in a 5K judged race here in Marin, I knocked 40 seconds off my Orono time, and I know it was because of the Qigong. We were doing a form called wall squatting, where we line up with a wall, nose and forehead to the wall, toes as close as possible. Then you squat down and release your back. It has made my legs so much stronger. I don't know what else to credit for my much faster time.

I think the time I will spend doing Qigong training and working with the energy fields in my body will make the difference for me next year in Gateshead. Besides, Qigong makes it more fun to race. You don't have to work as hard.

Kathy McCrary, of California, winner, W30 5000 racewalk (30:47.87), Nike World Masters Games, Eugene, Ore., Aug. 10-21.

A Vision to Pursue

trust you have read George Mathews' report, "A Historical Meeting Convenes in Portland," printed in the September National Masters News. I perceived the importance of organizing a summit meeting of world leaders for master/senior athletics after experiencing conflicting national and international schedules and lack of communication and consideration for each other's priorities. A meeting of this magnitude was too long in waiting. There is so much to gain for our common programs and constituencies that it is hard to believe our predecessors had not orchestrated an amiable union of the world organizations prior to this date.

In one evening of open discussion, USATF Masters, Senior Games Association, WAVA and International Masters Games representatives created a feeling for and a desire to move forward in harmony, to create bigger and better programs for the senior/ master-aged athletes of the world. All will benefit from the efforts, as was evidenced from the dialogue at the meeting and ensuing interaction following adjournment. The attendees agreed that this first summit should be followed by others, and that the harmonious atmosphere was a precursor to future interaction.

We have found our way through the forest, and the path is clear for traveling forward with our newfound friends and potential partners. I am directing my priorities to develop a working relationship/partnership between USATF Masters and the National Senior Games Association (NSGA). Early on, discussions between their responsible people and myself have been most satisfactory. Many of the past criticisms and differences of opinion have been attended to and are now non-issues. The NSGA has expressed dedication to having all athletics (track & field) comply with IAAF rules of competition as they apply to masters, and will be looking to USATF Masters for guidance and assistance.

David Pain, in his "Letter to the Editor" (this issue, p. 5), expressed an opinion that the National Senior Games, a.k.a. Senior Olympics, have had a provincial attitude, which generally caters to the less qualified athlete. This may have been the case in days gone by, but I can assure you it is not an attitude projected by the new administration of NSGA. We, USATF Masters and NSGA, share a vision to develop a Senior/Masters Olympics that will bring together the USA's finest athletes in an Olympic multisport format. As in all Olympics, track and field will be the natural focal highlight of the games. The finest track and field athletes will compete.

Pain reminds us that he and Bob Fine unsuccessfully proposed to Medalists in the M55 division, National Masters Decathlon & Heptathlon Championships, Neosho, Mo., July 25-26 (I to r): Bill Angus, 55, silver, Emil Pawlik, 59, gold, and Tom Thorne, 55. bronze.

WAVA in 1988 that WAVA consider getting into the multi-sport business. Our present plan is for USATF Masters to join directly with NSGA, which has the demonstrated administrative ability in place to organize and finance national multi-sport events, to produce a model for the rest of the world to follow. It is important that USATF Masters carry the ball responsibly with positive support, as we develop an affiliation with the National Senior Games Association.

My vision has been to develop strong, active masters programs from association and regional levels to the national championships. We have the opportunity to take our program to another level, a true USA Olympics. Let us all work together to make it happen.

National Decathlon/Heptathlon

Todd's first full decathlon since 1944 when he won a U.S. Olympic spot but was denied participation because of WWII. Bulkley managed three other meet records: 400 (87.5); 80H (18.8), and 1500 (7:42.4). Bulkley and Todd shared a meet record in the pole vault (5-73/4).

In the women's heptathlon, Leonore McDaniels, 70, Virginia Beach, Va., had a record rampage, setting meet bests in four of the seven events: high jump (3-111/4), shot put (22-33/4), 200 (37.8), and long jump (11-1). Karen Vaughn, of California, who was on a three-week driving vacation with her family, broke her meet record for the shot put (30-3/4).

Pawlik scored the meet's highest agegraded total of 7550, which is even more impressive because he is, at age 59, at the top of his group. Next year, at age 60, Emil's scores will be calculated with a higher set of age factors.

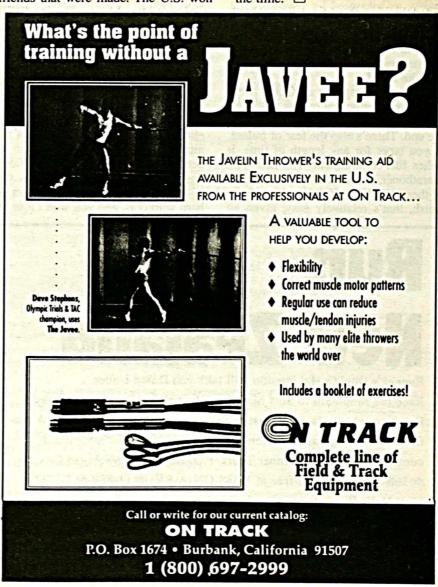

Close behind Pawlik was open athlete Jason Ramsey, 24, representing the U.S. Navy, who scored 7443 without age-factors. The open and high school divisions were not championships but were presented as a service to the track & field community for development

The international team challenge was interesting, not only from an athletic aspect, but even more for the cultural exchange and international contacts and friends that were made. The U.S. won both the Polish and Canadian challenges, with Canada winning over Poland.

Scoring was calculated by adding the total points of predetermined team members matched as closely as possible in skill level within the age groups. So, if the Poles had a 45-year-old with approximately a 5000 point skill level, then one of the U.S. athletes in the 45-49 group with about the same skill level was matched up with him or her. The scores for all of the designated athletes are added together for a grand total for each country.

Meet organizer Rev. Tom Thorne, a long-time, multi-event participant and organizer, and unofficial chaplain, gave a short invocation Sunday morning at the starting line of the hurdles, with special remembrances of departed competitors, especially Leonard Wray, of Oklahoma, who passed away this year.

Rex Harvey, USATF National Masters Multi-Events Coordinator, commented that "this was another fine example of excellent work of Thorne, the Midwest Decathlon Club, and the Neosho community. The international challenge meet here two years ago put Neosho on the world's multi-event map, and this event extended that reputation. Neosho is getting known in some far-flung corners of the world as a friendly and caring place, and, like it or not, this world is getting smaller all the time."

Training Tips - The Magic Taper

That do you do the final week before the marathon? Or before a road race at a shorter distance, or before a track meet, even before your favorite field event? How do you cut back on training? How much should you rest? What is the proper amount of taper?

David L. Costill, Ph.D., director of the human performance laboratory at Ball State University, believes runners often train too hard in the weeks immediately preceding a marathon. "They feel they need one last butt-busting workout and tear themselves down," says Dr. Costill. That's true regardless of your event, and regardless of your sport.

In research with swimmers, he noticed that they often set personal records by tapering as much as three to six weeks before an event. Yet Dr. Costill knew that runners rarely taper that much, even for marathons. He continued the experiment with runners, starting their taper three weeks before a 5K. During this period they ran only two miles daily, "just a warm-up." Two problems developed. Addicted to running and worried about losing conditioning, the runners showed increases in anxiety as measured by psychological tests. Also, in a preliminary 5K, they were so rested they went out too fast and faded at the end. But in a second trial, the runners relaxed and ran their fastest.

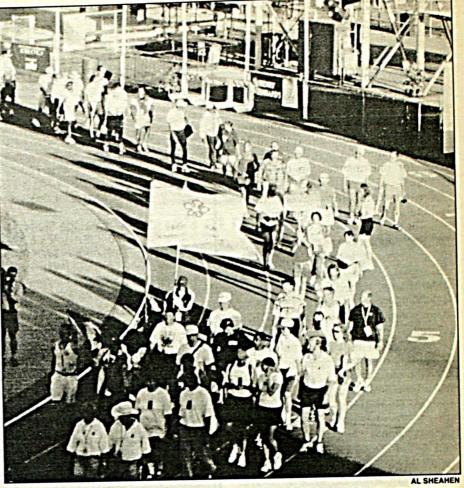

Take Heed

That's a message we all should heed, but the work ethic that pushes us to success often pushes us to train too hard at the end. There's also the fear of failure. If you taper for any length of time, it belies full commitment. The first-time marathoner, if well coached, faces few of these problems. If the goal is only to finish, that's relatively easy, given an intelligent training plan. But the serious marathoner lays his personal status and security on the line when he seeks to improve.

Nevertheless, if you want to run well in the marathon, you need to change habits in three areas:

1. Cut total mileage. Many of us are slaves to our diaries. We find security in the consistency with which we run week after week, month after month.
That's fine, but for the last weeks before the marathon, mileage doesn't count. More likely, it will hinder your performance. In the last three weeks before the marathon, run 75%, 50% and 25% of the mileage you ran the preceding three weeks.

2. Cut frequency. The simplest way to cut total mileage is to cut the number of times you train. If you follow a hard/easy pattern in training, simply eliminate the easy days. Instead of running an easy five-miler on your inbetween days, don't run at all. Take a day off. By doing so, you'll allow your body to recover more fully from the hard workouts, and you won't lose any

3. Cut intensity (but not pace). Research at McMaster University suggests that you need to continue to train at or near your regular pace on those hard days. So keep the speed up, but stop short. In speed workouts, cut the number of repetitions. In the CARA marathon training class, the weekend long run goes from 20 to 12 to 8 miles three weeks before the marathon.

Be Careful

Sunday:

The result of this drop in mileage during the taper will be a concomitant drop in calories burned. Since there's a direct relationship between calories burned and calories consumed in maintaining proper weight, you may put on a few pounds if you're not careful. I don't necessarily recommend that you drastically cut calorie intake, but you need to at least watch your diet to avoid eating more calories than normal. Robert Eslick, a coach from Nashville, Tennessee, warns, "I tell my runners to watch their intake for the first three days of the marathon week to avoid weight gain and then to eat a little more than their normal intake with the emphasis on carbohydrates the last three days.

Ease Off

Will this taper work for athletes who are not marathoners? Sure, the percentages in Item 1 above work even if your main event is 1500 meters, although you might not want to taper a full three weeks. Even shot putters need to cut back on their lifting and on their throwing five to ten days before The Big Event.

If you're a normal runner, you've become used to a regular training pattern; you're addicted. In some respects, cutting miles is like taking heroine away from an addict. But if you want to achieve peak performance, you need to know when and how to stop,

Weight Winners Double Up in Seattle

by JERRY WOJCIK

In a display of athletic consistency, the 22 men and one woman who competed in the USATF National Masters Weight & Superweight Championships in Seattle, Aug. 29, finished in exactly the same places in both events, except for one instance in the M65 division.

The championships event took place at West Seattle Stadium, its home for the last several years, which has been made into a throwers' haven by the host Seattle Masters Athletic Club, with the help of a cooperative Seattle Parks & Recreation Department. Weather was close to perfect – sunny with temperatures in the low 80s.

Competitors were divided into flights, in which they stayed for both events, using one of two available throwing circles.

As in the past, the event drew athletes from distant states, such as Florida, Pennsylvania, and Arizona, and Canada.

Tim Edwards, 50, of Colorado, was the standout with the 35-lb. weight and 56-lb. superweight, with meet bests of 50-91/2 and 33-71/2, both agegroup meet records. Stew Thomson, 65, of California, threw to meet records with 25-lb. (53-73/4) and 56-lb. (26-81/2). Ken Weinbel, 70, of Washington, recorded meet records with the 25-lb. (39-53/4) and 35-lb. superweight (28-73/4). In all, 11 meet records were broken.

Suzy Hess, 56, of Oregon, was the W55 winner in the 16-lb. weight (23-11) and 25 lb. superweight (17-7³/₄).

In the Ultra Weight Classic that followed the championships, Edwards outdistanced everybody in the 300-lb. weight with a heave of 4-21/4. However, Mark Neal, 45, of Washington, won honors with the 200-lb. with a 6-101/4 hurl.

Award winners in the Ultra Weight were M30-59, Edwards; M60-69, Ray Feick, 66, of Pennsylvania; M70+, Weinbel; and W55+, Hess. Competitors' marks were age-graded using a modified version of the Partridge Tables.

Medals were awarded to the first three in each division in the championships, with the champion receiving a championships patch. Ultra Weight winners were mailed plaque awards.

Participants received the usual picnic lunch and a free T-shirt for their entry fee.

Bearing the Burdens of Weighty Matters

The long-awaited pending world and U.S. records for the weight pentathlon appear on this page. The marks, as of Aug. 31, do not include the National Weight Pentathlon Championships held on Sept. 5. The world marks will be submitted to WAVA records committee members for approval and the U.S. marks to the USATF records people.

According to Pete Mundle, USATF Masters records guru, who compiled the list, the pending world records have a good chance of confirmation, because they were made in WAVA meets. However, most of the U.S. marks may not fare as well. "So far, I have documentation on just three U.S. marks," says Mundle.

The fact that U.S. throwers are allowed four throws instead of three as is the rest of the world is also a problem. Without proper documentation, Mundle has no way of knowing whether the athlete's best throw came in the fourth attempt, which would nullify it for world record consideration. That may explain the discrepancies and odd-looking marks, such as the 169 total for M95 Everett Hosack in the pending WR list.

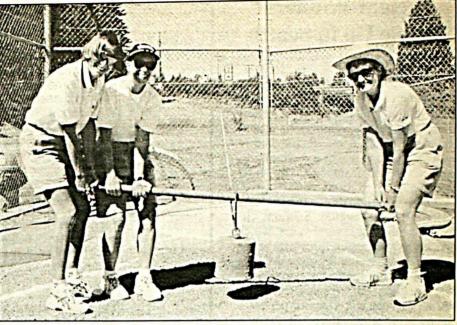

How many of the U.S. marks will hang around as pending for years, until they are bettered by documented performances, or are written off as unverifiable unless the necessary paperwork is submitted? Imagine the futility in trying to find the attendant officials to verify marks and implement specifications in meets dating back to 1997, much less 1987. What probably happened was, because the event was not WAVA-approved until just a few years ago, it never occurred to athletes and officials that they might be involved in record performances.

Athletes with record potential in any event, not just the weight pentathlon, take heed. Most meet organizers of national championships and major events have a system to initiate the proper paperwork for records, but some directors don't. Athletes should take the responsibility of alerting them of possible records (so that officials can check before or during the event) and making sure they follow through at the moment, not two weeks, two months, or two years later.

If you have questions or comments, contact Pete Mundle at 4017 Via Marina, #C-301, Venice, CA 90291.

Year of the Woman in Athletics – Another Facet

Officials Gwen Robertson (I), Pam Allie-Morrill (c), and Carole Langenbach lugging the 200-lb. weight at the USATF National Masters Weight & Superweight Championships, Seattle, Wa., Aug. 29.

IAAF. Ironically, the turnout of women for some of our 1998 national championships was just a few digits above nil, and generally less than it was in 1997. Three women (four in 1997) did the pentathlon in Orono. Three women (two in 1997) competed in the heptathlon in July in Missouri. Two (seven in 1997) showed up for the weight pentathlon in California in September, and one thrower (six in 1997) was on the scene in Seattle for the weight and superweight.

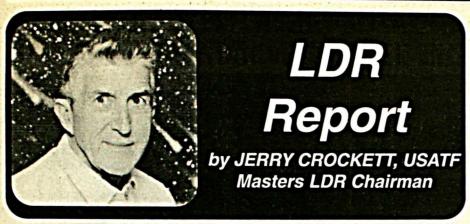

Only Suzy Hess, W55, of Eugene, Ore., and the National Masters News, put in an appearance in Seattle on Aug. 29. The officials working the throwing circle, where she competed with the men age-60 and over, were three women, who assumed not just the conventional female tasks of measuring and recording, but also called fouls and hauled 25-lb. and 35-lb. weights around.

Later in the Ultra Weight Classic held after the championships, the three officials – Pam Allie-Morrill, Gwen Robertson, and Carole Langenbach – declined offers of assistance from several of the 250-lb. males on hand, and said that they were capable of transporting the 200-lb. weight back to the throwing ring. Observed one thrower, "I don't know if their lugging that weight around is a step forward or backward for women in track & field, but they aren't having any trouble getting the job done."

Miles O' Smiles

n the next few issues I will introduce you to members of USTAF's LDR executive committee and their roles in our operation. Our current structure is shown on page 2 of NMN with the addresses and phone numbers of personnel who fill the various slots. As your chair, it is my obligation to articulate the efforts of our LDR leaders and to represent masters LDR on the USATF executive committee.

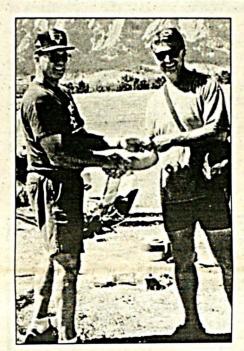

This has been a trying, yet exciting time to serve in this capacity. With a budget that provides no more than 60% of what we had become used to, we have attempted to grow in quality and to establish new programs. I feel we have been somewhat successful and that the primary tribute should go to our executive committee for not only maintaining a positive outlook, but for making time and financial sacrifices to make the growth possible.

Charles DesJardins, who serves both as treasurer and coordinator of the Indy Life Circuit, is a retired government ecologist and an ex-baseball player, who found running later in life. He oversees the Indy Life Circuit, a series of races which provides awards to both male and female overall masters winners and also to top age-graded athletes. Awards are for both individual races and for cumulative point achievement.

As we near the end of our second year of operation, we find ourselves being contacted by the organizers of many top races and are approaching the enviable position of being able to pick and choose. Charles works with our championships coordinator, John Boyle, to provide dual-status for as many circuit races as possible.

While our funding is not as good as we would wish, and our operations are still being fine-tuned, we are progressing well. Our ultimate goal is to bring together top masters athletes from all age-groups in diverse geographical venues in races of different distances at the lowest possible cost to them. In this way all of us can meet and run with these speed-merchants and rate ourselves on the national scale, as well as find out what great people they are.

A member of the executive committee is present at each race to facilitate the Indy Life Circuit regulars and to explain the program to others who would like to be part- or full-time circuit competitors. The only requirements are USATF membership, a race entry number and a back number. Charles can be reached at 702-884-9448 (home) or 702-721-9964 (cell phone).

Gage, O'Connor Break Records in Colorado

by TIM EDWARDS

Two U.S. age-group records were broken in the Rocky Mountain Masters Games held in Boulder, Colo., Sept. 5-6. Nadine O'Connor, Del Mar, Calif., broke her W55 long jump record of 13-31/2, set last year, by more than a foot, with a 14-43/4. Tom Gage, Billings, Mont., increased the M55 hammer (6 kg) record by over two feet with a 199-9. The present record of 197-8 was made way back in 1981 by Bob Backus.

A total of 48 meet records also fell, six by Carol Finsrud, W40, of Texas, including a 149-3 discus throw.

Sue Norton, W40, was the sprint standout, with records in the 50m (7.42) and 100 (13.72).

The meet drew 131 entrants to Potts Field on the University of Colorado campus.

Mark Richards: A Quiet Warrior

by SAL CORRALLO

On July 30, Mark Richards, a long-time Potomac Valley Track Club athlete and contributor, passed away in Arlington, Va. He was 68. A national masters age-group pentathlon champion in 1991, he was a fierce competitor. He wanted to win, and win he did with regularity.

Born in Newark, N.J., and a resident of Alexandria, Va., since 1969, Mark was a graduate of the University of Houston and received a master's degree from Boston University.

Even though he was modest and would only tell about his accomplishments if asked, his military life experiences could be the basis for a movie or TV adventure series. He was a retired Air Force colonel and a highly decorated combat pilot, who fought in Vietnam. Between 1965 and 1968, he had 6000 pilot hours and 153 attack missions (33 over North Vietnam) as a special operations pilot. He flew unmarked Douglas A26 fighter planes for night missions and close air support.

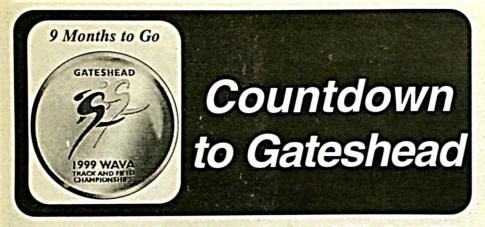

Among his decorations were the Silver Star, two Distinguished Flying Crosses, and ten Air Medals. Upon retirement, he worked in the offices of the Secretary of Defense, Secretary of the Air Force, and the State Department, where he was awarded two Presidential Citations.

Mark was a fully committed PVTC member. Despite his rigorous personal training schedule, frequent flights in his own aircraft, and family commitments, he and Caroline, his wife of 44 years, always found time to support our events. We hope to include a pentathlon in next year's Potomac Valley Games, dedicated to Mark Richards. It would be a small tribute to a fine man and a great competitor.

He was buried in Arlington Memorial Cemetery on Aug. 13, with full military honors. We will miss him greatly. Fly fast, Mark, but not too far above that hurdle, as the gold medal awaits you in the sky.

Veterans Battered by Gales in Wales

by MARTIN DUFF

Last time the British Veterans Championships went across the Severn Bridge to Wales, 10 years ago, the event suffered wild and windy weather. Unfortunately, the 1998 BVAF Championships, in Newport, July 10-11, suffered the same conditions, and the record entry was buffeted by wind and rain throughout the two days. Sprinters had to battle winds up to 5 meters per second up the home straight on the opening day. On Sunday, the wind gauge was broken when it was blown over.

On Saturday, Steve Peters held off Wally Franklin in the M45 to win in 11.59 and later in the day took the 400 (51.88), and, on Sunday, won the 200. An anticipated M40 400H clash between new British record-holder Mike Coker and Howard Moscrop did not disappoint. Moscrop led in the early stages, but Coker applied pressure to take the lead, after Moscrop hit the last hurdle badly, and won in a fine 54.84. Coker also won the short hurdles on Sunday with a windy 14.9.

While Sunday's 10,000 was badly affected by the wind, the 5000 on Saturday produced some top-class performances. Hayley Nash dominated the W35 in pouring rain with a 16:55.30. Nigel Gates was the pick of the men's runners with a solo M45 14:49.40 victory to add to his win in the 10,000.

Tony Bateman, M60, was in form with British records in the long (5.25) and high (1.61) jumps.

Rosemary Chrimes tied the M65 shot record with a 10.90, while Evaun Williams, W60, was out to 11.61. Both went on to add more titles, but could get nowhere near their records in the conditions. It took a British record of 42.49 for Jenny Earle to hold off the challenge of Diane Smith and world medalist Clare Cameron in the W35 hammer.

Noel Carmody dominated the multiage-group 3000 racewalk. Bob Care, M50, was the standout in the 5000 the following day, as was Ann Lewis, taking both races.

Committee Appointed for Special Year of Women in Athletics

by BRIDGET CUSHEN
WAVA Women's Representative

International Amateur Athletics Federation has designated 1998 as a special year for women athletes. A sub-committee consisting of three very capable and experienced women has been appointed, primarily to raise awareness and to carry forward their ideas. The three are IAAF Council members Abby Hoffman, Canada, an ex-interna-tional 800 runner; Nawal El Moutawakel, Morocco, the first Muslim woman to win an Olympic track gold medal (400H); and Ilse Bechthold, Germany, Chairwoman of the Women's Committee.

To date, the year has been a great success; most notably on May 7 when women competed in the Grand Prix in the Khalifa stadium in Doha and women spectators were allowed into the stadium. A significant breakthrough. Patricia Rico, the U.S. representative on the IAAF Women's Committee, was a popular speaker at the workshop held in conjunction.

How appropriate that the IAAF should have chosen a master athlete, the graceful Merlene Ottey, Jamaica, as the Main Patron for the Year.

Seminars are being held in Sierra Leone and Armenia in November and there will also be a seminar at the IAAF World Calendar Conference in Spain in October. Most countries have marked the Year with special meetings or other promotions.

You can access information on the Year at Internet http://iaaf.og/ywa, and use the special logo.

To mark the occasion, it was agreed at the WAVA Council meeting in Gateshead to donate a special trophy/plaque to each region to mark this special Year. The trophy is to be awarded for the best overall performance by a female masters competitor. (See related sidebar)

I am also open to suggestions on an appropriate type of trophy. So far a wood carving and cut glass vase or bowl have been suggested.

Please send nominations and/or trophy suggestions, no later than Nov. 1, to Ruth Anderson, 1901 Gaspar Drive, Oakland, CA 94611.

The All American tables have been changed to reflect current marks set by athletes all over the nation. The changes were made by the All American Standards Committee; however, the old tables may be used for one year until people have adjusted to the newer version. This was not done to make it more difficult for the athlete, but to make it more equitable after analyzing all the data. All American Standards Committee
